Parente Facing Tough Fight at Primary Election

Campaign of John Stieska Is Throwing Scare into Local Mayor

Mayor Hugo J. Parente is in one of the toughest fights of his long political career.

That was the consensus of political opinion in Monessen today as the Mayor and his Democratic primary opponent John R. Stieska, opened the final week of their bitter contest.

Parente is seeking an unprecedented fourth term in the Mayor's office. The only Monessen mayor ever to serve as many as three terms was the late Carl Woodward. He was the first man to be elected mayor after Monessen became a third class city in the 1920s and the only Republican ever to hold the office.

Interest in the Parente-Stieska battle is heightened by the fact that the Republican nomination will have to be decided by write-in votes since no Republican filed nominating petitions. In fact, there are no Republican candidates for any local office in Monessen this year.

Mayor Works Hard

Parente's supporters readily agree that Stieska is a serious contender. The Mayor himself has told friends that he is working harder in this campaign than he ever worked before. He tells his backers that their biggest opponent is "Mr. Overconfidence".

But nobody outside the Stieska camp is expecting Parente to be defeated. Parente forces will not be surprised if Stieska draws a "protest" vote of between 2,500 and 3,000, but anything more than that would give them serious concern about the Mayor's political future.

It is expected that somewhere around 7,000 to 7,500 Democratic ballots will be cast a week from tomorrow. Monessen has 9,300 registered Democrats.

Both the Parente and Stieska campaigns appear to be well financed. The Mayor's slate, consisting entirely of City Hall incumbents seeking reelection, has the benefit of pooled resources and the strength of the regular Democratic organization. The Monessen members of the Westmoreland County Democratic Committee have unanimously endorsed the Parente slate.

Campaign in Clubs

Stieska apparently has adequate funds for advertising and some entertaining at clubs and private parties although he is not able to match the Mayor in the latter activity. And most of the campaigning is done in the semi-private atmosphere of the nationalistic clubs.

Parente and Stieska, however are both seen frequently on the downtown streets.

"Progress" is the theme of the Parente campaign. The advertising, which is being supervised by Andrew N. Kutasky, chairman of the County Tax Board, stresses public improvements which have been made in Monessen under Parente administration. These include parking facilities, new homes, streets, sewers, and redevelopment and long-range planning.

The Mayor yesterday fired what he expects to be his big ammunition. It is a 20-minute moving picture in which some of the above

'Monessen Story' Has Its First Showing Here

The first public showing of "The Monessen Story", a 20-minute sound moving picture pointing out the progress of the City, was held in Monessen over the weekend.

The film, which was arranged for by Mayor Hugo J. Parente and other members of his City Hall slate seeking reelection in the May 21 primary election, tells of the progress that has been made by the City since Parente first took office in 1946.

The movie shows various shots of new churches, streets, sewers, industrial expansion and newly remodeled business establishments.

Mayor Parente and other members of his slate are using the film to replace the usual lengthy talks that mark practically every political meeting. It is something new in politics.

Although the narrated film has a few references to things political, the narration itself carries no appeal for votes. Instead it tells of the progress the City has made and what future plans are in store.

In speaking of the film today the Mayor said:

"Of course, we will make an appeal for votes after the film is shown at meetings, but I want to point out that no bids for votes are included in the narration."

The film had its first showing before a non-political group in the City Building Saturday afternoon. The group included several members of the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday night the picture was shown at two political rallies, one at the Ninth Street Italian Hall and the other at Greek American Progressive Association.

The film is scheduled to be shown at the Democratic women's tea to be held Wednesday afternoon at the Slovak Home and several other meetings before the May 21 primary.

The picture opens with a sweep-

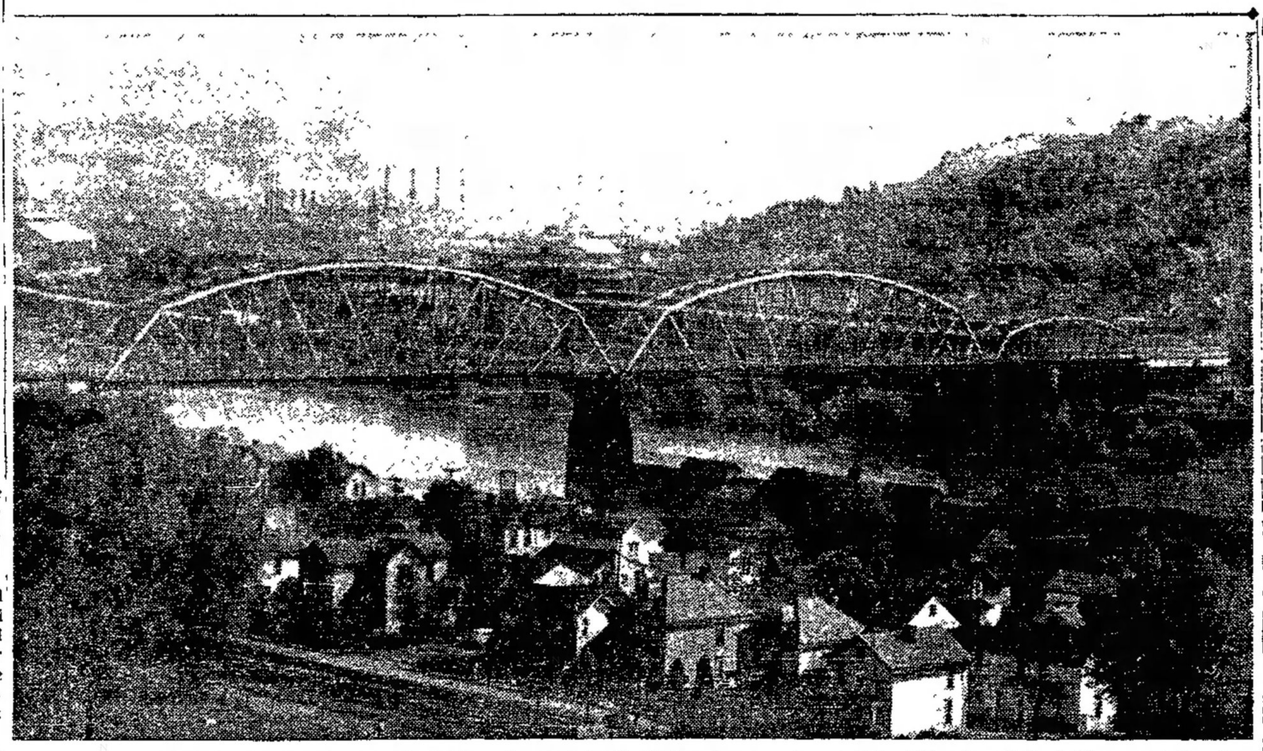
Equal Rights In Name Only

BERLIN (UP)—West German housewives complained today they still have to do the dishes alone, although a new law gives them equal rights with men.

One of the housewives, Mrs. Anita Maassen of Hamburg, said the law "sounds fine," but added that her husband disagrees with her on its interpretation.

"He overrules the new law every time I ask him to help with the dishes by remembering 'an urgent business appointment,'" she said. "Then I am left alone with my equal rights in the kitchen."



CHARLEROI-MONESSEN BRIDGE — A toll bridge for nearly 50 years, the Charleroi-Monessen Bridge will be freed by the state Wednesday morning at 9:30. This view of the bridge was taken from the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital grounds looking toward Monessen.

Three Hurt in Area Mishaps Over Weekend

Motor mishaps in the Monessen district over the weekend resulted in three persons being injured, State Police reported today.

One person was hurt when two cars collided at the intersection of Rts. 51 and 71 about 8:45 p.m. Saturday, two miles east of Belle Vernon, police said.

Marion Clabaugh, Belle Vernon R. D. 1, was injured when a car operated by her husband, Boyd Jr., collided with a machine driven by Patsy Jordan, 36 West Place St. Uniontown.

Mrs. Clabaugh was admitted to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital suffering lacerations, abrasions and concussions. Attendants said her condition is good.

Two persons were admitted to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital early yesterday suffering injuries they reportedly received in a traffic mishap between Gibson and Van Voorhis.

They were identified as Laurence Devore, 25, of 768 Allen St., Monongahela, who suffered possible fractures of the skull and jaw, cuts and bruises. His condition is fair.

Also admitted was Carol Welch 18, Charleroi R. D. 1 who suffered possible fractures of the nose and cuts.

Two Arrested for Disorderly Conduct

James Edwards of 459 Clarendon Ave. and Walter Munro, of 1032 Morgan Ave., both of Monessen were arrested on disorderly conduct charges following a street fight yesterday near 11th St. and Schoonmaker Ave., local police reported.

Edwards received a bruised forehead in the altercation.

Millions Collected from Bridge Built Nearly 50 Years Ago

A toll bridge for almost 50 years, the Charleroi-Monessen Bridge will be freed to the public for the first time on Wednesday.

When the last toll is paid at 9:30 a. m. that day, an estimated more than $2,000,000 has been paid in tolls since that day on Nov. 2 1907, when the bridge was originally opened to traffic between the two communities.

The official opening of the bridge was celebrated with pomp and circumstance rarely repeated in Monessen's history.

High over the Monongahela River and the splashing rapids of the old dam site of Lock 4, there was stretched in 1907 a web of steel 1890 feet long and 23 feet wide. It was double-tracked for street cars and vehicles and also maintained a side footway for pedestrians.

The opening of the $300,000 bridge was an interesting event in the history of the two towns.

Toll from Start

Work had only begun in May of 1907 when high waters swept away all the new construction, causing a loss of $25,000.

This left the company where it had started in the spring. However, this did not faze the organization which was determined to put the new bridge across the river. Rapid progress was made and by that fall the bridge was ready for dedication.

The contract price for the bridge was originally $225,000, and $50,000 paid for real estate on both ends of the structure.

The bridge was owned by the Mercantile Bridge Company, whose directors placed a toll charge of three cents a person.

The company was first organized in 1903 by David M. McCloskey, Thomas P. Sloan, Henry Sheets, Howard Nelson and John Percival, most of whom were from Charleroi.

They had great difficulty in securing a charter and were assisted

Some Facts and Figures on Bridge

Here are some facts and figures about the Charleroi-Monessen Bridge when it was opened in November, 1907.

Total length	2,000 feet
Two channel spans	400 feet
Span across P&LE	200 feet
Charleroi viaduct	50 feet
Wierton viaduct	500 feet
Sidewalk	7 feet
Tons of steel	1,650
Stone masonry	60 feet
Height of bridge floor	60 feet
Height of spans from floor	60 feet

The abutments were put in during the fall of 1906 and steel work was begun immediately after. When winter weather set in only one span was completed.

Charles Crampo Wins 'Teen-age Road-E-O' Contest

Charles Crampo, of Rostraver Township High School, yesterday won first place in the "Teen-age Road-E-O" sponsored by the Monessen Jaycees at the A&P parking lot on Sixth St. and Donner Ave.

Second place went to Gerald Essey, of Monessen High School, while Beatrice Tobacco also of Monessen, captured third place. About 20 persons competed before a large crowd.

Crampo won a trophy, gold wrist watch, certificate of merit and an all-expense paid trip to compete in the state finals on June 8 at Hazelton.

Essey won a wrist watch and certificate and Miss Tobacco a pen and pencil set and certificate.

The Road-E-O was a test of driving knowledge over a specially designed obstacle course, which included a "see pen-tac" maneuver through a set of barrels placed several feet apart.

John Dudas was general chairman. Dan Snyder, president, presented the awards.

French President Calls on Pope

VATICAN CITY (UP)—French President Rene Coty called on Pope Pius XII today in the first official visit of a French chief of state to a Pontiff in 1,157 years.

Coty called at the Vatican in the full pomp and splendor of a state visit. The strains of the Marseillaise—long abhorred by the Catholic Church as a revolutionary anthem—echoed in the courtyard of St. Damascus as the French president stepped from his car.

Papal Chamber Master Msgr. Feerico Callori de Vignale ushered Coty into the Sala Del Tronetto (hall of the little throne) for the papal audience.

It was the first state visit of a French chief of state to a pope since Pope Leo III crowned Charlemagne as holy Roman emperor on Christmas Eve of the year 800 A.D.

Suffers Heart Attack

Joseph Nalis, of 949 Grant St. Monessen, is in "fair" condition in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today after being stricken with a heart attack about 12:45 this morning near 12th St. and Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen police reported.

Local Man Has Fatal Attack On Street Here

John J. Checchi, 60, of 559 Chestnut St., Monessen, was stricken with a fatal heart attack while walking on Sixth St. between Summit and McMahon avenues about 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Mrs. George Boulton, of 716 Sixth St., told police she was sitting on the porch of her home when she saw the man stagger and then fall to the street, his head striking the curb. Eli Myers, of 712 Sixth St., attended the stricken man until police arrived.

The victim was taken to the office of Dr. Fred T. Campana, City physician who pronounced him dead.

Checchi, who made his home with a sister, Mrs. Florence Vivian, was born in Italy and had been a resident of Monessen since 1908.

He worked at the Monessen plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co. as a mold inspector.

He is also survived by another sister, Mrs. Joseph (Jessie) Righetti, of Monessen, and a brother, Ermindo, of Dunlevy.

Friends are being received at the Perry A. Cozza Funeral Home from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m.

He was a member of the Monessen Thomas McKee Post 28, American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Charleroi.

Teamster Heads Pressing Him to Leave by Aug. 1

WASHINGTON (UP) — Dave Beck undergoes another round of his "trial by exposure" today that already has led to predictions he is through as head of the nation's largest union.

The Senate Rackets Committee called two business executives to state whether doing business with Beck's Teamster Union had meant giving special favors to Beck.

The witnesses were Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co., and A. M. Burke, head of the mortgage loan department of the Occidental Insurance Co.

No Charges Against Them

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said their appearance did not necessarily mean the committee had evidence of wrongdoing by their firms. He said the group wanted to ask them whether Beck asked for favors as a follow-up to his business deals with their companies.

Teamster Union sources told the United Press during the week end they believe Beck now "is through" as head of the 1,500,000-man Teamsters Union. They predicted committee testimony that Beck profited from a "charity" fund collected for the widow of his best friend would anger rank-and-file Teamsters and prove Beck's undoing.

Sources in both the Teamsters Union and its parent AFL-CIO said it is now conceivable Beck will either resign or "retire" as Teamster president by Aug. 1. Teamster leaders were said to be pressing Beck to leave his $50,000-a-year-plus-expenses post.

The Aug. 1 date was cited because that is the deadline for the union to start electing local delegates to its Sept. 30 convention for the purpose of electing new officers.

In other developments connected with the rackets inquiry today:

—Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.), newest member on the Rackets Committee, said in an interview the group should investigate secondary boycotts by labor unions. These are instances in which unions seek to halt work in a firm doing business with a concern against which they are on strike. Curtis was appointed to the committee last week to replace the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Fund Standards Considered

—Sen. Sam. J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.), another member, said Beck's conduct may prompt Congress to set standards for administration of union funds. He told newsmen Beck seemed to regard the Teamsters' treasury as "his own private property."

Beck himself may be recalled for questioning before the rackets group later this week. Whether he will furnish any information, however, remained doubtful. He has taken refuge in the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution almost 150 times in refusing to answer committee questions about many phases of his financial and business dealings.

Two Injured in One of Three Local Accidents

Two persons suffered minor injuries in one of three motor accidents in Monessen over the weekend, police revealed today.

Reports said a car operated by Andrew Clayton, 19, of R. D. 3, Monongahela, was traveling on Third St. when Clayton lost control of the car at the Grand Blvd. island and crashed into a hillside about 5:30 yesterday afternoon.

Two passengers in the car, Jean McWilliams, 19, of 1012 Morgan Ave., Monessen, and Mrs. Frances Tarpley, 27, of 1410 Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen, suffered slight lacerations and bruises. They were treated at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital and released.

Clayton, who was driving a car belonging ot Mrs. Tarpley, had been charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license.

A car operated by Ray Bronder, of 331 Main St., Fayette City, was traveling east on Schoonmaker Ave. near Ninth St. about 3:30 yesterday morning when it went out of control and struck a steel post at the home of Joseph Venneri, of 859 Schoonmaker Ave., sending the post into a window of the Chicolis Grocery at 863 Schoonmaker Ave.

The Bronder car also struck a parked car belonging to Romeo Angeline, of 925 Schoonmaker Ave.

In the third accident at 1:20 a.m. Sunday, a car driven by Clarice Smith, of 1061 Highland Ave., Monessen, was traveling on 12th St. when it struck a car owned by Norman Maul, of 1172 Schoonmaker Ave., causing slight damages.

Federal Judge Hears Arguments On Track Sale

WHEELING, W. Va. (UP)—Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins hears arguments today on a motion by the federal government to sell Wheeling Downs race track to satisfy part of a $3,285,632 tax bill against owner William G. (Big Bill) Lias.

Two weeks ago the government asked Watkins to order immediate sale of the property, but before ruling on the motion the judge set today's hearing.

The half-mile track on scenic Wheeling Island, along with other of Lias's property, has been in federal receivership since Feb. 22, 1952, when the government took control to protect tax liens.

The government moved to sell the property shortly after the U.S. Supreme Court rejected Lias appeal from the tax ruling.

Two days later, the government filed a motion requesting dissolution and liquidation of Wheeling Downs Racing Assn., owned by Lias, his wife and two children. Value of the track has been estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Ike Touches Off Rebel Yells

ATLANTA (UP) — Southern blood turned plum to steam today at the very idea—Marse Robert getting "sacked" by a Republican!

President Eisenhower saying he would have "sacked" Gen. Robert E. Lee—greatest of them all (as any Southern school child will tell you)—for the way Lee fought the Battle of Gettysburg!

And Marshal Montgomery agreeing with him!

President Eisenhower and British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery Sunday touched off the Rebel yells anew in these parts, where the boys will fight the Civil War over again at the drop of a magnolia blossom.

The World War II commanders-in-arms started it all as they tramped the green slopes and rocky hills of Gettysburg Sunday, and second guessed one of the greatest battles of the Civil War.

From the advantage of hindsight the President and the British field marshal criticized the tactics both of Lee and Gen. George G. Meade, who headed the boys in Blue.

They thought Lee reckless in ordering Pickett's men into the cele-

Four Burned to Death As Bus Crashes Auto

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UP)— A Pennsylvania couple and their two children were killed shortly before Sunday midnight when a Greyhound bus crashed into the rear of their station wagon on the Ohio Turnpike in foggy weather.

The station wagon's gas tank exploded and the vehicle became a "ball of fire" as it was bumped along the highway for several hundred feet by the bus. The station wagon spun around several times and then the bus knocked it off to the side of the road.

Bodies of the victims were badly burned. They were identified at Southside Hospital here as: Murray Lockard, 45, his wife, Mary Jane, 42, their son, James Maurice, 14, and daughter, Lizabeth Jane 12, all of Blairsville, Pa., about 35 miles east of Pittsburgh. The crash left only one member of the family surviving, Murray Jr., 17.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said a manslaughter charge would be filed against Edward Bukosky, 30, Pittsburgh, driver of the bus which was enroute from Cleveland to Pittsburgh. He was unable to explain how the accident occurred.

The bus passengers were stunned and shaken by the accident and some were treated for minor injuries. None was hospitalized. The accident occurred about four miles west of the Youngstown Interchange, south of here. Both vehicles were eastbound.

Everett Grow, 19, of Lansing, Mich., a passenger on the bus, said the station wagon "became a flaming mass when its tank exploded."

"The flames leaped about 10 feet high. It was like a ball of fire. The bus pushed it along for about 10 seconds until it went off to the right side of the road. Then I watched as it passed my side window," he said.

Carl Felger, of Mahoning County, whose home along the turnpike is near the scene of the accident, said he heard the sound of the crash.

"I went out and saw this ball of fire rushing down the highway. It looked like the flames were shooting 30 feet in the air," he said.

Lyndon Johnson Calls on Ike to Take His Stand

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B Johnson accused the Eisenhower administration today of speaking out of "both sides of its mouth" on spending.

He called on President Eisenhower to embrace publicly either the "spending wing" or "economy wing" of his administration so Congress will know what he wants it to do.

He added that the President's televised budget speech Tuesday night should show whether "he wants an economy administration, or a spending administration."

The Texas Democrat loosed his new attack as the Senate prepared to take up this afternoon its first regular appropriation bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1. It was a House-approved measure carrying $3,965,201,000 for the Treasury and Post Office departments.

The Senate Appropriations Committee recommended acceptance of the House figure which was $80,364,000 below the administration request. The Senate's action will be considered a major test of its economy attitude toward other House budget cuts.

Johnson's criticism was contained in a statement quoting remarks of the President and other administration spokesmen.

In other budget developments:

—Sen W. Kerr Scott (D-N C.) appealed to the Senate to reverse the House action in killing funds for a federal flood insurance program. He said the government would save money in the long run by such a program because it eventually has to pay part of the cost of "natural disasters."

—A Democratic - controlled Senate committee recommended an "immediate and discriminating" cut in foreign aid gifts to free nations but warned that "indiscriminate' cuts would harm the nation's safety and world position. The special committee is headed by Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R I.), also chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

by Congressman E. F. Acheson, of Washington County.

A new company was organized about a year later, in 1904, with the following officers:

John K. Tener, president; Charles S. Thompson, vice president; David M. McCloskey, secretary and treasurer; George K Tener, of Sewickley and George Nash, of Monessen, directors.

Opening Big Day

The celebration upon the opening of the bridge was truly one of Monessen's greatest days.

The morning was spent in receiving guests. Promptly at 12:30 the Monessen delegation of officials, speakers and guests paraded to the center of the bridge where the Charleroi officials were met and the two links forged. The big parade started.

At the head of the line was a platoon of mounted police of the Monessen Police Department. Postmaster E. M. Frye, chief marshal, led the marchers and was followed by organizations and delegations from the various industries of the city.

An ox roast took place at 2 o'clock on Sixth St. The meal was prepared and sandwiches were served to all. At 2:30 Congressman J. F. Burke, of Pittsburgh, addressed the crowd from the foundation of the Baptist Church on Schoonmaker Ave

The two delegations from the two cities paraded through the streets of Monessen, then to Charleroi, where in the evening a huge fireworks display was witnessed by a large crowd.

The state bought the bridge, along with nine other toll bridges, in 1949 for $7,731,000. It paid $551,108 for the Charleroi-Monessen span

Blasts Reds for Trying to Horn In on Pilgrimage

WASHINGTON (UP)—Archibald J. Carey, acting chairman of President Eisenhower's Committee on Government Employment, today lashed out at the Communist Party for trying to horn in on a Negro "pilgrimage" to Washington

Calling the pilgrimage a "perfectly legitimate observance," Carey said it was common practice of "insincere" Communists to climb aboard honest human rights movements, thereby "adulterating" the movements or "impugning the motives" of those behind them.

The "Prayer Pilgrimage for Freedom," organized by Negro churchmen and leaders is expected by its sponsors to draw 50,000 participants to a mass meeting at the Lincoln Memorial here next Friday. Timed for the third anniversary of the Supreme Court's school integration edict, its aim is to commemorate the decision, protest violence against Negroes in the south and press for civil rights legislation.

The American Communist Party has made infiltration of the affair its number one current objective, according to reliable information.

Benson Denies Leaving Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UP)—Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson said today there is no basis, so far as he knows, for several recent reports that he will soon leave President Eisenhower's cabinet.

"I've never worried about tenure in this job," he added in a news conference with members of the Newspaper Farm Editors Association. The group opened a two-day meeting here today.

Benson assailed as "unwise" a House Appropriations Committee cut of 100 million dollars in his proposed budget for the acreage reserve section of the soil bank program. He said his aides have conferred with House members of both parties, seeking to reverse the cut on the House floor

If this appeal fails, Benson indicated he will ask the Senate to restore the soil bank fund and several other cuts recommended by the House committee.

Flash Floods Drive Hundreds from Homes

By UNITED PRESS

Flash floods drove hundreds of persons from their homes at Dallas and Lampasas Tex. and hail storms battered sections of Oklahoma and Iowa in a new outbreak of violent weather in the southern plains

Driving rains in central Texas sent eight feet of water surging through Lampasas, a city of 2,500 population, Sunday night from Sulphur Creek The body of one unidentified woman was recovered from the flood waters and another was missing About 150 families were evacuated

Up to six inches of rain hit the Lampasas area Sunday and heavy rains swept Dallas flooding streets and forcing evacuation of an undetermined number of persons.

High winds reaching 80 miles per hour and tornadoes accompanied the rain storms in Texas One tornado hit Crawford near Waco causing property damage but no serious Numerous funnel clouds were observed in northeast and west - central Texas during the night.

Flood waters also threatened in Louisiana The rising Red River swamped some homes and farms near Broussette, and authorities feared some 150 homes would be flooded before the river begins receding

A freak hail storm in southwestern Oklahoma piled up a solid, one foot thick sheet of ice over a half square mile area near Altus Hail the size of marbles accumulated in frozen drifts along a area one mile wide and 10 miles long He' storms also battered sections of Iowa and Colorado

Week-end rains were welcomed in New England and big raging forest fires that caused an estimated 10 million dollars in damage Authorities said rains Saturday and Sunday virtually ended the threat of the blazes in the blackened section of Massachusetts and Connecticut

Democrats Scolded By Sherman Adams

WASHINGTON (UP) — Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams has scolded the Democratic-controlled Congress for "lagging" on President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B Johnson, who unveiled a speed up plan for legislation over the weekend, took a shot at the administration on the budget front.

Adams said "it is high time" Congress got busy and passed Eisenhower's program. Accusing the Democrats of "lagging," he said "it doesn't work well" when the White House is controlled by one party and Congress by another.

Adams in a filmed television interview released Sunday specifically called for action on civil rights and immigration Johnson disclosed he has told Senate chairmen he hopes for floor action this month on bills dealing with immigration, the Hells Canyon project and housing. He also has asked about the possibility of early hearings on small business legislation.

Other congressional news

Water: The House Interior Committee accused the Interior Department of not moving fast enough in trying to find cheap methods of converting salt water into fresh water. The committee said that despite "optimistic" reports b the department there still is a "long way to go before general use of converted sea water becomes a reality." It accused the agency of not giving the matter "the degree of urgency it deserves"

Foreign Aid: A special Senate committee recommends continuing the foreign aid program but said "an immediate and discriminating" cut could be made. The committee, headed by Sen Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), said in a report on a 10-month study of the program that a "much higher degree of effectiveness" could be achieved at a lower cost. It urged a cut be made in aid given on a grant basis.

Nickel: The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee warns there is a "serious shortage" of nickel resulting from rising defense and civilian needs. It said the shortage has occurred despite a tremendous increase in total supplies. The subcommittee urged the administration to take steps to increase U. S supplies of the metal

Parente

accomplishments are pictured and described in a script which claims that Parente has played a key role in Monessen's civic development

Stieska Cites 'Blunders'

Stieska, however, hammers away at what he calls Parente's "blunders". He includes in this category the downtown parking plaza and the so-called "secondary" paving of residential streets

Stieska also has tapped Parente as a "weekend mayor", claiming his $11,000 a year state job as a member of the Workmens Compensation Board of Review leaves the Mayor only his spare time to devote to Monessen's affairs

Stieska, who owns two drug stores has said he will be a 'full-time mayor". He was asked today whether this means that if elected he intends to give up his business and devote all his time to the $3,600 a year job as mayor. He replied:

"It means I don't intend to play high politics with Harrisburg and Washington I am not interested personally in higher politics. I will be available in Monessen at all times."

Stieska added that any decisions involving his business would have to be made after the election.

Stieska so far has avoided open tie-ups with other independent candidates although he is understood to be cooperating with Stephen Sinchak, a candidate for Council Sinchak withdrew at the last minute as a candidate for mayor in order to give Stieska a clear shot at Parente, and Stieska feels indebted.

Although Parente has had only one really close call in his career he is not known as a strong vote-getter personally. The close call occurred in his first mayoralty campaign in 1945 when he nosed out Republican J. Karl Beery by only 70 votes

Foes Usually Divided

The Mayor has won his other victories by comfortable but not spectacular majorities Usually his opposition has been divided among two or more opponents, another factor of the present campaign which gives the Parente forces some concern. Stieska this time gets everything Parente can't get

Both candidates expect to make organized bids for Republican write-in and sticker votes Parente's stickers are already in circulation among Republican voters

If either one should win both nominations his election in November would be a mere formality as Democrats outnumber Republicans 2 to 1. But if the nominations are divided other, there could be another battle in the fall.

Stieska is a former Republican and two years ago won a Republican nomination for Council while being defeated on the Democratic ticket. He was then defeated in the general election.

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Salvatore Trunzo, 62, was held on a murder charge today while his daughter, for whose sake he killed a man honeymooned with the husband she married less than two hours after the slaying charge was filed against her father

Trunzo a Coraopolis borough worker, confessed Saturday that he ambushed and killed John Dippolito 40, in Sewickley three years ago because the victim refused to stay away from Trunzo's daughter, Carmela, 26,

Shortly after Trunzo was arraigned before a Pittsburgh alderman on the murder charge, the daughter and Daniel C Trautman, 26, were married at Coraopolis Both were unaware that Trunzo had confessed to the slaying, although he had been under questioning since Friday morning

Trunzo admitted hiding in bushes near Dippolito's home the night of Feb 25, 1954 and shooting the mill worker down. Although Trunzo was questioned shortly after the slaying and released he was never cleared as a suspect Allegheny County Detective Chief Henry Pieper refused to disclose what led to the renewed questioning.

Trunzo said Dippolito, although married, had been keeping company with his daughter despite his objections. The shooting, he said, was the result of his efforts to break up the romance.

And Meade, who had just assumed command of the Army of the Potomac, blundered in not pursuing Lee after the Southern attack failed. The World War II European commander and the hero of El Alamein agreed.

"It looks like everybody is getting into the act," Wilbur G. Kurtz, an Atlanta historian, said

"That was a very uncouth statement," Mrs. John L. Harper, president of the Atlanta Ladies Memorial Assn, said of Eisenhower's comment that he would have "sacked" Lee.

"That seems a little harsh to me, "Beverly DeBose, president of the Atlanta Civil War Round Table said.

There were comments on the latter-day efforts to detract from the infallibility of a general whose battle strategy, incidentally, President Eisenhower himself studied in the classroom at West Point.

Eisenhower tempered his criticism somewhat when he told Montgomery that if some of the generals who fought the battle were alive today, "they probably would have criticized the way we fought"

Montgomery, nodded in agreement.

Eisenhower had his old friend "Monty" as a weekend guest at his Gettysburg farm, located on the fringe of the battle ground.

Britain Using Suez Canal

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today gave British shippers permission to resume use of the Suez Canal

Macmillan said the permission was given in view of last week's decision by a majority of members of the Suez Canal Users' Association to let member governments make their own choice on whether to use the Egyptian-nationalized waterway

The prime minister's long-awaited announcement was received with total silence in the crowded House of Commons.

Macmillan confirmed that arrangements had been made for British ships to pay canal tolls to Egypt in pounds sterling Egypt previously had refused to accept British currency.

The prime minister spoke after Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House that Britain rejects Arab claims that the Straits of Tiran leading into the Gulf of Aqaba are Arab territorial waters

Lloyd also told parliament that the dispute over Israeli use of the Suez Canal should be "legally" settled "as quickly as possible" He said the British government feels Israeli ships "are entitled to go through the canal."

Talks in Baghdad May Bring New Syrian Coup

Communists in More Activity, Israel Claims

By UNITED PRESS

Israeli sources predicted today in Jerusalem the Baghdad talks between King Saud and King Feisal and Jordan's move toward the West might lead to a new coup by anti-Communist political leaders in Syria.

The sources said increased activities of the Russians in Syria could be expected to show the rightist groups the "suicidal tendency" of the present regime and produce another coup—and another about face in Syrian foreign policy.

Reports reaching Jerusalem strongly indicated the left-wing Syrian leadership was badly shaken by Jordan's decision to accept 10 million dollars in U. S. aid even if it did not accept the Eisenhower Doctrine as such.

The Jerusalem dispatch said Syria was stepping up its propaganda attacks against Israel to cover up its growing internal crisis and that the attacks were designed to show the other Arab nations that Syria was the most anti-Israel.

Hope for Coup

Indications increased that the Baghdad talks between King Saud of Saudi Arabia and King Feisal of Iraq were isolating the Syrian-Egyptian axis more and more. Israeli sources hoped frankly a Syria coup would leave Egypt on a limb by itself.

Egypt moved today to try to strengthen the neutralist bloc. President Gamal Abdel Nasser was receiving Premier Lemar El Ali Mohammed Daud of Afghanistan, a strong pro-neutralist who offered Afghan "volunteers" to Egypt during the Suez invasion.

In Baghdad, Feisal had hoped to show Saud the Western-supplied military might he recently placed at the disposal of Jordan's King Hussein during the recent crisis in Jordan. But rain caused cancellation of the parade. Diplomatic sources predicted Hussein would go to Iraq this week for three-power conferences.

Miner Saved after 74 Hours Entombed

RICHWOOD, W Va. (UP)—William C. Richmond, entombed for 74-hours in a coal mine, concluded today that "the Lord heard me and saved me."

The 38-year-old father of seven, in remarkably good condition when rescued from his tiny tomb early Sunday, recalled the first horror-filled minutes of his ordeal and how "my prayer was answered."

Four other men were working in the same section of the nearby Donegan Coal & Coke Co. mine with Richmond when the roof started to collapse. Richmond was at the farthest end of a tunnel when the fall began.

The man working closest to him managed to scramble out but when he tried to follow, on hands and knees in the low-ceiling area, "the roof fell in ahead of me."

Richmond said he crawled back as far as he could to the "rib"—the as yet uncut edge—of the mine seam where he had been working.

"I could see the slate falling like big hunks of paper, with black dust pouring up, and I said, 'Lord, nobody can stop it but You. If You don't, I'm a goner.' The fall came right up to two feet of where I was huddled and stopped. He had heard."

Some of the slate fell across his right leg, and then the sides of his tiny enclosure—"It was about 20 inches high"—began to slide in.

The dust, combined with smoke from electrical boxes blowing out as a result of disrupted lines, filled his little area, almost choking him.

Finally, the smoke cleared, but his electric lamp burned out, leaving him in total darkness, without food or water and not much air.

PTA to Install Officers Here On Wednesday

The Monessen unit of the Parent Teachers Association will meet Wednesday evening in the High School and the installation of officers for the coming year will highlight the session.

W. R. H Patterson will be installed as president for the second consecutive year and John Harsha, of Belle Vernon, newly elected Westmoreland County Council president, will be the installing officer.

Jean Plavetich will play a piano prelude and there will be selections by a chorus of students from second to fourth grades of the Vocational School, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Stueska.

The summer recreation program will be discussed by Stephen Pfeister, chairman of the local recreation board and by Frederic Feldman, assistant recreation director.

The summer make-up program for High School students will be discussed by High School Principal Henry Fumo.

Bishop Pardue Here Thursday

Bishop Austin Pardue, of the Pittsburgh Episcopal Diocese will pay an official visit to Trinity Episcopal Church Thursday evening to administer the sacrament of Holy Confirmation to a class of young people and adults.

The service will begin at 7:45 and the class will be presented by the Rev. David Dillon, priest in charge. There will be special music by the choir.

Following the service there will be a coffee hour in the Parish House.

A choir rehearsal has been called for tomorrow evening to make final preparations for the service.

Pre-Primary Tea For Democratic Women Wednesday

A pre-primary tea for Monessen Democratic women will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Slovak Home at 335 Schoonmaker Ave., it was announced today by Stephanie Buchar and Betty DiBuono, co-chairmen.

One of the features at the tea will be the showing of "The Monessen Story", a 20-minute narrated film, and a floor show by "The Goofers".

Principal speakers will be Westmoreland County judge candidates Edward G. Bauer and L. Alexander Sculco.

The party is being sponsored by the Monessen Democratic Committee headed by William Rapsack, chairman.

Rapsack said the affair is open to all women.

Plan Breakfast For Graduates

Defense Claims Doctor Not Aware of Crime

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (UP)—The trial of Dr. Samuel L. Woodhouse Jr., 52, accused of slaying his foster daughter, moved into its second week today, with the defense planning to produce more witnesses to support its claim the Milroy physician was insane at the time of the crime.

Attorney Paul E. Fetterolf told Judge Paul S. Lehman and the jury of 11 men and one woman last week he will ask for a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity.

He said the Aug. 6, 1953 rifle slaying of the girl, Elizabeth, 16, was "the action of a mind that was not there."

The physician's wife testified at Saturday's session what she discovered the day of the slaying.

She said she found her husband slumped over his office chair and Elizabeth dead in a bedroom on the third floor.

Mrs. Woodhouse said she had been to a meeting and when she returned her husband told her of the shooting. She ran to the girl's room and after finding her dead returned to her husband and shook him to find out what had happened.

Mrs. Woodhouse said the doctor mumbled:

"I shot her. I shot her because she was unhappy and was making you unhappy."

District Attorney R. Lee Ziegler of Mifflin County is pressing for a first-degree murder conviction and the death penalty on the ground the slaying was premeditated.

Police said the physician told them he planned the slaying for about one year and intended to commit suicide after killing the girl. Woodhouse was recently released from Harrisburg State Hospital.

Actress Mourns Racer's Death

MILAN, Italy (UP)— Copper-haired film star Linda Christian wept hysterically Sunday night when she learned that Spanish Marquis Alfonso de Portagos — the man she might have married — was killed in an Italian road race.

The Hollywood beauty who was once married to actor Tyrone Power saw part of the race, and she gave De Portagos a farewell kiss at 11 a.m. at the checkpoint of the Mille Miglia in Rome, halfway point of the classic race around Italy.

She boarded an airliner to Milan near Brescia and arrived here smiling and without knowledge of De Portagos' death. Her smile faded when she saw the serious faces of newsmen waiting at the airport to greet her and was replaced by a look of disbelief.

"Please tell me the truth," she said.

Her mouth fell open at first in disbelief and then in horror. She broke into sobs. Friends took her by the arm and led her to a secret hiding place near Brescia where she was spending the night.

The Spanish nobleman was married to the former Carol McDaniel, 35, of Charleston, S.C., and was reported planning to divorce her so he could marry Miss Christian.

North Park Fish Stranded

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A valve failure drained the 75-acre North Park artificial lake Sunday, stranding thousands of fish and giving "hand anglers" a field day.

A drainage gate, opened to draw off high water, stuck when workmen attempted to close it and the lake slowly turned into a vast mud flat.

Most of the trout, bass, carp and bluegill in the recently stocked lake were swept into sulphur-polluted South Pine Creek and died. A few escaped upstream, but large quantities were trapped in shallow pools in the mud.

Fishermen, neighbors and passing motorists waded into the mud to scoop up the helpless fish. Several hours later county police halted the fish gathering for fear some one might be caught in the deep mud.

County Parks Director George B. McDonough said the artificial lake would refill in about five days. But fishing was ruined for the season, he said, unless the Commonwealth ordered an emergency re-stocking.

As many as 2,000 anglers turn out at the lake on a Sunday afternoon.

McDonough said the drainage gage was opened Saturday. But when workmen turned the valve worm which closes the gate, located 15 feet under water, it shut only partially, he said.

"When we realized the fish were in danger we even used a pile driver to try to force the gate shut," he said.

Workmen finally closed the gate last evening after the water level had dropped below it.

Third Class Cities Deserve Freedom

GOVERNOR George M Leader has thrown his support behind legislation designed to give the citizens of Pennsylvania's third class cities more freedom in determining the form of their municipal government.

How much Governor Leader's support will mean in terms of votes in the Assembly is doubtful in view of some recent developments in Harrisburg. But be that as it may, the Governor's help is most welcome.

This subject has been before the Assembly repeatedly in the past 20 years. But though there have been many close votes, no home-rule-for-third-class-cities bill has ever passed more than one house.

The measure which is now being considered was drafted by the Local Government Commission, set up by the Assembly itself. And the bill has the support of the League of Cities, which on previous occasions has used its influence against such legislation. The League's change of attitude is also welcome.

The bill would give the third class cities the right, to be exercised through referendum, to adopt any one of three well known types of municipal government, including the present commission form.

The other two forms are the "strong mayor" and the "council-manager", the latter making use of a trained expert as the principal executive officer. The "strong mayor" is the form used by many large cities, and it establishes the elected mayor as an executive officer and the council as a purely legislative body, of which the mayor is not a member.

We believe most strongly that the people of the third class cities ought to have this much leeway in determining the form of their local government. And we hope this session of the Assembly gives it to them.

The School Bill

THE PROPOSAL to provide federal financial aid to the states and local school districts to help them build schools has reached the point in Congress where it is probably going to require tremendous public support to push it through.

This legislation has had a rocky road to travel. Last year it was lost in a welter of political maneuvering in which the wholly extraneous issue of racial segregation took precedence over the need for more and better public schools.

Now the school construction bill is caught in a rather hysterical "economy" wave in which the central argument is built around two points: (1) that the use of federal funds would somehow weaken local control of education and (2) that the budget is too high and this program should therefore be eliminated — in other words, Uncle Sam can't afford better school buildings just now.

Members of Congress need to be reminded however, that both political parties are firmly committed in their platforms to support federal aid for school construction. And what was so right six months ago when they were asking for votes cannot have become wrong so quickly.

Any country whose whole life is dependent upon an educated citizenry simply dares not allow its schools to deteriorate. It is more important even that we should have proper schools than that we should have the best guided missile.

Students of public school problems are convinced that many states and districts cannot catch up with the lag in school construction unless they have help and have it soon. Members of Congress who deny that help are assuming a heavy responsibility.

The Wrong Way

ONE OF THE definite disadvantages of the local wage-income tax as compared with other forms of local taxation is the relative secrecy which it operates With real estate taxes for example any citizen can ascertain at any time how much tax is assessed against any property owner and whether or not the tax is paid No so with the wage-income tax — the records are confidential

It is all the more reason why local governments which levy a wage tax should take every opportunity to assure the public that this phase of the public's business is being handled with scrupulous fairness

The Monessen city government has not done this As evidence to that effect we point to a recent change in the wage tax ordinance which was made with no effort to inform the public The ordinance formerly made all income, both earned and unearned subject to the tax But last December the ordinance was quietly changed to exclude unearned income

This does not strike us as a good way to build public confidence in the administration of an important tax measure If unearned income was to be exempted from the tax the City had a duty to inform the public of that fact Had it not been for the alertness of a member of this paper's staff this vital information would still have been the exclusive property of insiders at the City Hall.

Merry-Go-Round—

Banker Sees Need for School Aid

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — GOP Congressman Sam McConnell is a Philadelphia investment banker who also serves on the House Labor and Education Committee where he tries to do a conscientious job for a city he has represented for years returned from a trip through 10 midwestern states of his own expense. They cost To learn the true facts about the nation's need for school building

Mr. Pearson

McConnell returned more convinced than ever of the urgency of federal school aid despite the U S Chamber of Commerce

'I'm an investment banker McConnell confessed to this column, recalling that most investment bankers oppose federal aid on the grounds that it would ruin them of school-bond underwriting business

"I guess I'm a conservative and I'm a lifelong Republican But I simply don't agree with the U S Chamber's hell-bent-for figures on the nation's need for schools

'There's a real shortage but one of a specific nature You have to understand that'

The place where schools are needed most are not in the suburbs close to big cities In such areas population has swollen in recent years but school construction hasn't kept pace The suburbs lack adequate tax revenues to build schools still because they don't have expanding factories within their boundaries

'Logically they should get help from their state governments McConnell continued 'and in many cases the states are helping But there are other cases where constitutional restrictions make state help impossible

'For example some states have a limit beyond which they're not allowed to borrow money Constitutions just don't get adjusted in five minutes It's hard to get them changed

NEA's Cold Feet

McConnell considers it urgent to build schools immediately before the growing crop of school-age kids reaches high school

If they get a bad start warns the Congressman 'they may be ruined for the rest of their lives even if we eventually succeed in getting the school shortage ironed out"

Following his trip to inspect school buildings in Ohio Indiana, Missouri and Iowa McConnell made an impassioned plea behind the closed doors of the House Education Committee He pleaded his colleagues to back the federal aid bill despite the economy hysteria now disturbing Congress

A few days later representatives of the National Education Association got cold feet called on McConnell to suggest that the proposed federal expenditure be lowered from the $2 000 000 000 already approved The NEA was worried that the economy axe would descend

McConnell argued for $3000-000 000 from the proposed cuts The Senate on Committee started by a vote of 23 to 3 with Leaders A Willis D Green of Oregon Democratic Whip of Massachusetts Pat Holding out for the full $2 000 000 000

Humphrey's Company Benefits

Treasury Secretary George Humphrey's M A Hanna Co is about to get a lucrative government subsidy Its profits for $7-200 000 for building a combined ore carrier and

The Hanna company has a $2 000 000 federal contract to build a 730-foot cargo ship of 17 500 The Hanna Company is headed by an Army Secretary Humphrey and Congressman Clarence Brown

This $10 000 000 ship Republican Senator Bricker of Ohio declared is to be used to transport iron ore from Seven Isles Labrador to Baltimore and Philadelphia during the summer In winter when no iron ore can be moved the new ship is to be used to carry coal

Facts on the Atomic Treaty

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

At long last the atoms-for-peace concept has a chance of coming to life

After three and a half years of painful and painstaking negotiation much of the time waylaid by Soviet roadblocks the most original arresting and far-sighted proposal of the Eisenhower years — the International Atomic Energy Agency to help nearly the whole world share some of the peaceful uses of the atom — is at the point of birth

Mr. Drummond

Eighty-one nations have now signed the statute of the International Atomic Energy Agency

The IAEA which would administer control and safeguard a world pool of fissionable materials will in the next few months be born living and full of promise if 64 members of the United States Senate vote yes'

The atoms-for-peace plan will be stone-dead at birth if the Senate rejects it or suffocates it with less than

Hearings Started

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, with the joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy sitting with it is at the beginning of its hearings on the proposed treaty

Ever since President Eisenhower on Dec 8 1953 stood before the United Nations in New York and unfolded to a yearning world a concept of how the atom could be used throughout the world for the betterment not the destruction of mankind the United States has been carefully bringing to fruition its plan to make this possible

There can be no doubt that if the Senate of its sponsor government rejects or seriously circumscribes the International Atomic Energy Agency to which we have welcomed 80 nations American leadership for peace will enter a long period of deterioration

Certainly the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the joint committee on Atomic Energy ought to give this IAEA treaty a thorough scrutinizing If it develops that it should be repaired if it can be shown that it will do harm rather than good then it should be rejected

But there ought to be sufficient public understanding of what the atomic treaty really provides so that its opponents cannot hide behind fictitious arguments I think the American people will expect the Senate to support the President's galvanizing leadership in the cause of the peaceful atom unless his opponents can show overriding reasons to the contrary

Questions Raised

There are many honest questions about the functioning of the IAEA which should and will be raised They can all be answered in one column But I would like to begin to deal with some of them factually not argumentatively, and return to others later

Question: Is this a give-away program?

Answer No Nations obtaining fissionable material from the international agency will pay for it The agency's administrative expenses estimated at about $7 000-000 a year will be pro-rated to the member nations in accordance with the ratio each pays to defray the costs of the United Nations

Question Why has the Soviet Union now accepted the atomic treaty after opposing it for so long'

Answer. No one can be absolutely sure, perhaps the reasons are mixed The judgment of American officials is that Moscow could not in the end refuse to cooperate in a world wide effort to speed the beneficent uses of the atom — to begin to provide electric power resources and radioisotopes for medical industrial and agricultural research It would be too great a world-wide political liability The Soviet Union can't dominate the agency There will be no veto in its operations

Question: Will here be danger of fissionable material being secretly siphoned by some nation into weapons?

Answer. The greatest enemy of the free world the Soviet Union already possesses abundant fissionable material and nuclear weapons It can make these available to any country which would take them The operation of the atomic agency, which provides for continuous agency inspection of every country using its fissionable material, would decrease the danger of the weapons use of atomic power

'Mr. Arcularis', Good Reading

By UNITED PRESS

'Mr Arcularis' by Conrad Aiken (Harvard): Conrad Aiken Pulitzer prize poet, novelist and critic, became a playwright by accident shortly after World War II when he was called on to doctor' an English dramatization of his story "Mr Arcularis," during its pre-London tryout

The play dramatized originally by the late Diana Hamilton and retitled 'Fear No More," lasted out its scheduled four-week London run despite mixed reviews Aiken however was dissatisfied with the play even in the revised version he produced during its British provincial tour

He has now rewritten it extensively, in the process restoring its original title In its new form 'Mr Arcularis" has been seen on television in the United States and Canada and in stock productions in Washington and Provincetown but it has not as yet been produced professionally on Broadway or in London's west end.

National Affairs—

Administration Goofs Its Political Moves

By LYLE C. WILSON

(Lyle C Wilson United Press vice president and Washington manager has fully recovered from a recent heart attack and today resumes his writings on national affairs His dispatches will appear frequently on this page.)

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — What's new in Washington is the same old story that the Eisenhower team still is goofing its political skull practice

For example By chance or design the administration's April 19 reduction in wheat price supports caught members of Congress en route home for the Easter recess Some Republicans complain that wheat state congressmen had no advance warning of the reduction Thus they had no hot answer for wheat farmers back home who instantly were demanding explanations

Mr. Wilson

Similarly the administration too often strips its political gears on minor patronage matters The confirmation of a small town New England postmaster recently was stymied by a Democrat who was not even a member of Congress The nominee's local Republican sponsors were increasingly embarrassed by failure to get their man on the federal payroll

Finally Put Through

The embarrassing stymie persisted however until the nominee's Republican backers became sufficiently angry to put some real political heat on the White House through Postmaster General A Ihai E Summerfield

These are minor items perhaps but not necessarily isolated they painfully annoy local Republican leaders who may not want jobs for themselves but who must feed their own ego and home state prestige on the appearance, at least of having political influence in Washington

Executive departments and administrative agencies have been under Eisenhower's direction since Jan 20 1953 It still is necessary however for political professionals to remind these Republican officials that a congressman likes to know a couple of hours in advance when his home town is to be awarded federal funds for some popular local purpose.

Foreknowledge enables a congressman to break the good news to the folks back home in the hope that they will remember his good works next election day.

There are political professionals in Washington who, among their friends will wonder now out loud whether the Eisenhower team merely is goofing its political home work or worse—that someone fairly highly placed deliberately is blowing political fuses

Grass Roots Trouble

However that may be, there is real trouble at the grass roots for the Eisenhower administration Some of it is the kind of trouble that a little more political savvy probably could remedy in a hurry

And comes now the persuasive report that a Texas Democrat will be named to succeed Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey when the latter leaves the cabinet The Texan is Robert B. Anderson secretary of the Navy in 1953-54 deputy secretary of defense in 1954-55

Anderson impressed Eisenhower with a standout Pentagon performance He was an Ike-for-president Democrat in 1952. The Republican political pro who was reviewing these matters ended our conversation with a sigh-

'Things could be worse but not much he said 'You'd think there would be a Republican somewhere in this country fit for that Treasury job'

Motorists Like Kings On Britian's Highways

By CLARI COX

LONDON U P —Motorists are treated like kings on British highways

The [illegible] one another's pretty [illegible]

The Briton behind the wheel is saluted and catered to as possibly no other motorist in the world

He also looks after the other fellow on the road in a way that would jolt many an American driver off a U S highway

A sort of 'motorists' Roberts rules of order has developed in Britain Truck drivers sitting high on their perches wave automobile drivers past when the road ahead is clear Motorists almost always acknowledge the helping hand with a short toot of the horn

From one end of the United Kingdom to the other every highway is patrolled by men in the uniform of Britains two auto clubs In addition to policemen, who cruise in such vehicles as Jaguar or MG sports cars or even station wagons

Club Patrols Highways

The Royal Automobile Club has 1 000 patrolmen and the Automobile Association about 1 200 Regular members pay $6 a year to belong to a club Foreign visitors may become temporary members for about $2 50

The men on motorcycles ride up and down their 25-mile beats, ready to repair a broken down car fix a flat tire give first aid or just exchange the time of day. They also salute Every patrolman is required to salute every car bearing the membership badge of his club—and the motorists almost always salute back, as if they were generals reviewing their troops

The auto club also maintains 1 200 telephone booths along the highways in England Scotland, and Wales Members of both clubs have identical keys that open either AA or RAC booths from which calls for help may be made at any hour of the day or night

Similar To AAA

For tourist and resident alike, the auto clubs have another service similar to that of the American Automobile Association They provide detailed routes to motorists listing the names of every town and every highway number and often containing such folks directions as 'turn left by the Regina Theater' or 'turn right at the Vernon Arms Hotel' A sort of running travelogue is included on each page with such observations as 'a pleasant run along the shores of Loch Lomond followed by views of the industrial river Clyde'

Beverly Ann Bunting Weds

Is Bride of John H. Keatts On Saturday

Mrs. John Harrington Keatts

Beverly Ann Bunting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Bunting, of 16 Rex Blvd., Seneca Heights, became the bride of John Harrington Keatts, Ensign, USNR, at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, May 11, in the First Methodist Church of Monessen. Mr. Keatts is the son of Rolla M. Keatts, of Columbus, Ohio, and the late Mrs. Eleanor Welch Keatts.

The Rev. Leroy S. Cass officiated at the double ring ceremony.

White fiji mums and snapdragons arranged in fan type bouquets graced the altar, which was banked with ferns and palms. White candelabra and pew bouquets of gladiolus completed the setting. The music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, of Mansfield, Ohio. Mr. Lee sang, "Through the Years", "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer" He was accompanied by his wife, who also played organ selections before the ceremony and the wedding march.

Given by Father

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length sheath gown of imported white silk taffeta fashioned with a paneled back and chapel train. The bodice of hand run Alencon lace had a scalloped sabrina neckline and the lace was repeated in the horizontal bands circling the skirt from the waist to the hemline. Matching lace was used for the scalloped lace crown studded with seed pearls, which held the bridal veil of imported English silk illusion. Her bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis was carried on a white Bible covered with matching Alencon lace.

Sue Clinger, of Philadelphia, served as the bride's maid of honor She was attired in a peacock blue waltz length gown of pure silk organza. The square neckline was emphasized by large lantern sleeves and a bouffant skirt. She wore a matching tulle plateau headpiece and matching shoes. She carried a white basket of pink daisies and heather.

Bridal Party

The bridesmaids were dressed identically to the maid of honor and carried identical floral arrangements They were Pamela Forker, of Baltimore, Md. and Carol Rickert, of Columbus, Ohio Jean Bunting, sister of the bride, was the junior attendant

Robert Blanchard, of Columbus, Ohio, was Mr. Keatts' best man and the ushers were Robert Lehner, Roger Staehle, James McWilliams, all of Columbus and Dan Bunting, brother of the bride

Mrs. Bunting chose a beige street length dress of pure silk organza and lace for her daughter's wedding. She wore beige and pink accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium. Mrs. Keatts wore a lace dress in beige over aqua with a yellow rose corsage.

Reception Held

The couple received their guests at a reception immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Lester Reynolds, of Middlesex, N J and the Misses Charlotte and Elizabeth Probasco, of Rockford, Ill., acted as hostesses for the reception, which was held at Century Inn, Scenery Hill.

After an eight week stay in Newport, R. I., where Mr Keatts will complete the U. S. Naval Officer's Communication School, the couple will leave for Sasebo, Japan, where Mr. Keatts will serve in the staff of the Commander, Service Squadron Three, U. S Navy.

The former Miss Bunting attended Ohio Wesleyan University, where she was pledged to Delta Delta Delta Sorority. Mr. Keatts was graduated from Ohio State University, where he was president of Sigma Chi Fraternity and a member of Eta Sigma, Romophos, and Bucket and Dipper honoraries.

Junior Club Will Meet, Continues Pageant Plans

The Junior Women's Club of Monessen will meet for a business session tomorrow evening at the Civic Center. In charge of the meeting will be Mrs. Emery Andricovich, Jr., Mrs. James Farquhar, Mrs. Lee Jones, Mrs William Gilman and Mrs. Jack Centanni.

The club is at work on plans for the Miss Mon Valley Contest, which it has been invited to sponsor in this locale for the second consecutive year.

Mrs John R McGovern, who is serving as entries chairman, is receiving entries from the various valley towns as well as cooperation from merchants and organizations in the communities.

Janice Calderone, general chairman, has announced the pageant as an event of June 12, at Twin Coaches. An invitation has been extended to all members of the Mon Valley civic and service clubs and high school sororities to sponsor entrants in the contest

There will be no obligation on the part of the clubs or groups sponsoring contestants other than to nominate a candidate. Girls suggested for participation in the pageant will be interviewed by the entries committee, which will select 12 contestants for the June 12 finals.

Each contestant nominated by a valley club will appear in the pageant wearing the ribbon indicating the club she is representing This year the Miss America Pageant with headquarters in Atlantic City will give a cash award to the club sponsoring the girl who eventually becomes Miss America. Mrs McGovern may be contacted by any interested organization.

ON THE BALL

Niccolai 'Their' Coach of Year

Monessen High football coach Armand Niccolai was all smiles the other night at the school's annual sports banquet when his boys presented him with a trophy carrying this inscription: "Our Coach of the Year." It was a fitting tribute to the big fellow who has been sometimes criticized for being "too nice." The trophy let the world know that his boys, at least, are in his corner all the way . . . Deadline for releasing players in the Mon Valley Baseball League will again be June 1. Deadline for signing players will be June 15 with the exception of returning servicemen . . . Incidentally the MVL entry fee this year is $100. Most of that money returns as prizes.

Credit this story to School Director Nick Cullen: "Our track coach Cliff Jones is also quite a bowler and he plans to organize girls and boys bowling teams at the high school. His idea is to curb juvenile delinquency by taking the youngsters off of the streets and putting them in the alleys." . . . Emil Beck, the public address announcer at Memorial Stadium who is seeking a school board position, has developed a novel hand shake for the campaign. He slips a pack of his matches into your palm during the time-honored political maneuver.

Townsend Recalls Early MHS Win

S. S. Townsend, the retiring principal-coach at West Newton, recalls how his first Monessen High football team in 1915 upset Charleroi, 12-0, to end the Magic City's domination of the rivalry. "We scored early in that game when a trick play off our side center set up a touchdown," recollects Towney. "It wasn't until the final period that we scored again. Charleroi had the ball deep in its own territory in a mud hole. The center threw a bad pass and we recovered, thus leading to another score. It wasn't until a year later that I discovered one of my players violated my instructions never to foul. It seems the Charleroi center was spitting tobacco juice at our center throughout the game. When they got into that mud hole our boy got even by kicking mud into his face. As a result the pass back went wild and we scored."

Danny Barton, Monessen High's junior athlete, had a busy time of it one day last week. He appeared in a track meet at Donora early in the afternoon, then rushed back for baseball practice. That night, he took part in May Day ceremonies . . . Incidentally Barton will be the MHS quarterback next season. He's a sharp kid who spends some time with the books, too . . . Another intelligent athlete, Joe Kurey, is having a great tennis season. The Greyhound star hasn't lost a match all season. As a matter of fact, he's lost just three games!

No Host for Johnstown Tourney

Sponsors of the Johnstown holiday basketball tournament raised a few eyebrows when they failed to invite the host Johnnies. The four entries this year will be defending champion Charleroi, Chester, Overbrook and Portage . . . Monessen's Bob Petty will be working under a new manager at the Brooklyn farm club in Kokomo, Ind. His former pilot Pete Reiser has been forced to the hospital with a heart condition . . . John (Zeke) Zilka, who played for the Cips in the City Basketball League, has departed for the service . . . Here's a headline clipped from a Greensburg paper: "Boisterous Buc Backers Batter Braggin' Bragan But Bobby Not Bothered By Booing." That's all for today.

"Do we ever get frightened?" he penned his own question. "We get terrified. Fear is the awareness of danger. Whenever a driver makes a mistake and loses control of his car for even a split second, the danger is acute and he is frightened."

It is difficult to picture in that way I knew this haughty, hawk- faced man with the black pomade hair, motoring his way for the first time as he prepared to ride in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree.

He didn't look afraid when his horse fell at one of the early jumps and he sat there, unmoving, as the field thundered past. [illegible] Upset undoubtedly, but

Racing's Crucial Stage

"I think the hardest part of racing is the start of a driver's career," he speculated. "If he can get over the first couple of years, this is one-half the battle."

But the battle ended Sunday for De Portago when he "lost it" as the tire blew. The actual tragedy among those the fates sent with him for the simple reason that road racing crowds are so poorly managed and so impossible to control with absolute safety to the innocent.

Because De Portago's death will stop no one from racing.

Ozarks and Perryopolis Meet Today

MHS Teams to Play Today

Net Squad Hopes to Win Title

Monessen High's undefeated tennis team will be out to clinch the Section 4 title today at California.

The Greyhound netters have already won five straight matches, including an earlier decision at the expense of California.

However that win over the Trojans was close, three to two. So the home team has some hope at least.

Should California win, then a two-way tie will develop. Monessen assured nothing worse than a tie by winning at Charleroi last Friday.

Stars Ready

MHS coach Antoinette Valentine reported that her two junior stars — Joe Kurey and Jim Baker — will be on hand for today's match. Together they are expected to account for three victories, which will be enough to clinch the match.

The outstandings singles and doubles players in the valley will also be selected today for a special WPIAL Tournament.

Monessen High's baseball team will conclude its 1957 campaign this afternoon The GreyHounds will play host to California at Ninth Street Park.

Other Section 17 diamond tussles this afternoon will send Bellmar to Donora and Charleroi to Monongahela.

Big Game

That latter game is the big one Charleroi has clinched at least a tie in the final standings. A win over Monongahela will wrap things up without doubt.

Bellmar wants to win its finale to even off the season record at five wins and five losses. Monessen simply wants to win to see what it feels like. The Greyhounds haven't come out on top since the opener against Monongahela.

School Champs Crowned in Marble Tourney

School champions in the ninth annual Monessen Marble Tournament were announced today by tourey director Frederic Feldman.

The champs are:

Lloyd Aldrich, Lincoln; Terry Husher, Jefferson; Garry Bello, Washington; William Shepler, Linden; Vernon Smith, Ben Franklin; Joe Kerestes, Holy Name; David Bergstedt, St. Leonard; Robert McFadden, Vocational and Philip Reed, Junior High.

Feldman promised to have a city champion by tomorrow.

All school kings will receive teeshirts from the Monessen Sports Shop as well as individual awards from the Veteran of Foreign Wars Post 1190.

The city champion will receive a trophy from the Daily Independent.

As usual, the tournament is being co-sponsored by the Department of Recreation, VFW Post 1190 and the Daily Independent.

A full set of adult teeth numbers 32. There are only 20 in the set of baby teeth.

Turner Girls Win In District Bowling

For the second straight year, the Monessen Turners feminine bowling team has won the Pittsburgh district title.

The Monessen girls finished far atop the final totals.

However their male counterparts had to yield their crown. Rochester came off fast to clip the Monessen men in the final totals

The Turners title is determined on the basis of three rounds — or nine games — of bowling. The final round was completed over the weekend.

Here's how the girls finished up: Monessen, 6159; Johnstown, 5413; McKeesport, 5389; Monongahela, 5106; Homestead, 4857; Rochester, 4764; Ambridge, 4008, and Monaca, 3501.

The men finished in this order: Rochester, 7046; Monessen, 6827; Monongahela, 6707; Johnstown, 6671; Ambridge, 6543; Monaca, 6441; Homestead, 6296; and McKeesport, 6060.

High Scores

The high single game in the tourney was rolled by Monessen's Mary Palm, a 246. Her team mate Babe Kroskie had the high triple, 528.

Comprising the championship girls team were Kroskie, Palm, Pauline Burdock, Jean Sandis, A. Havrilak, J. Valenti, Helen Zdilla, Olga Tredici, Rose Jannotta and Irene Bost.

Rostraver Junior High Boys Are Guests of Parents

Rostraver Junior High athletes were guests of their parents during a novel party Saturday in the Webster Fire Hall.

Football coach Ed Hogan and basketball pilot George Estok presented "letters" to their players as a highlight of the affair.

Rostraver athletic director Jim Weir made presentations to the parents on behalf of the Lions Club.

In turn, the parents presented gifts to Hogan, Estok, school principal James O. Leeper, and Mrs. Virginia Woods, a member of the Junior High faculty who is in charge of the school's cheerleaders.

Leeper and Frank Buscanics, WESA sportscaster, made the principal remarks. Allen Kline, sports editor of the Daily Independent, served as toastmaster.

Mrs. Vivian Blick, chairman of the party committee, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Alice Zolak, also made brief talks.

Following the formal speaking program, the party continued with a number of games.

Len Eshmont, Ex Gridder, Dead

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UP) —Len C. Eshmont, a fleet halfback on Fordham University's 1941 Cotton Bowl football team and a former professional player with the New York Giants and the San Francisco Forty-Niners, died Sunday at the age of 39.

Eshmont, a seven-year veteran in the coaching ranks and second in command to Virginia football coach Ben Martin, died in the University of Virginia Hospital of what was described as a liver ailment and complications.

Cro-Ams Will Drill Tonight

The Cro-Ams softball team will practice tonight at City Park following the regularly-scheduled City League game.

Manager Dick Saflin has invited all interested players to tryout for the team.

New Tri-County Softball League Begins Tomorrow

The newly-organized Tri-County Softball League will begin its 1957 season tomorrow.

Opening games will send Lock Four (French Club) to Charleroi (Lee Norse); Naomi to Fairhope Rod-Gun; and Fairhope Firemen to Roscoe.

The Naomi-Fairhope game will be played at the Marion field

Four other league entries will debut later in the week. They include Pricedale Hillcrest, Monessen USW, Monongahela Combustion-Engineering and Donora.

Ted Nichols, of Pricedale, will serve as president this season. He will be assisted by vice-president Ed Blacka, of Fairhope; and secretary-treasurer Julius Gihirny, of Pricedale.

All winning teams are asked to report their scores to Nichols immediately following the games. His phone is Belle Vernon 9934.

District Schools To Begin WPIAL Baseball Tourney

District teams will waste no time in opening the WPIAL Baseball Tournament.

Burgettstown Union and Avella will meet today at the Washington High diamond in a special Section 2 playoff. They finished their regular season in a tie.

Brownsville, the Section 18 champion, will tackle the Section 19 king, Waynesburg, this afternoon in Fredericktown.

Charleroi, already assured of a tie in Section 17, will stash away that crown by winning over Monongahela at Van Voorhis today.

Mt. Lebanon can also sew up the Section 3 title this afternoon as host to Canonsburg. But if the Gunners upset the Mounties, Wash High could still tie in that league.

Complete Pony Loop 'Draft'

Monessen's PONY League conducted its annual draft meeting on Saturday following the last of three tryout sessions.

Paul Pushnack, league president, presided at the session.

The boys selected are to report to their respective teams. Youngsters who played in the PONY League last season and who are still eligible will remain the property of their 1956 clubs.

John Barton, player agent for the league, said that final rosters must be completed five days prior to June 4.

That means the "drafted" boys are still subject to release and trade.

Here are the draft selections:

Ravens — Philip Reed, Alan Leshor, Donald Kerns, Tom Evans, William Morrisson, Ronald Gins, Ken DiGiacomo, Ronald Hornack, Robert Hornack, and Carl McEllush.

Local 1229 — Tom Felgar, Delbert Myrga, Michael Kurey, Edward Ratica, Vernon Smith, Wayne Sekola, Richard Senko, Ted Darby, and R. Hornack.

Lions — Anthony Vitale, Ronald Fisher, Michael Nicksich, Leslie Pettko, Randy Barton, David Manderino, Edward Skurkay, Marvin Dolan, and Joseph Kerestes.

Eagles — William Malinchak, Jack Barilla, Mike Magura, Lee Laszewski, Ronald Yohe, Benjamin Jones, Robert Sypolt, Sylvester Bronson, John Bachism and Anthony Caputo.

Taking part in the draft were these managers: Nick Cullen and his assistant Tom Nemosik, of the Ravens; Angelo Leone and his assistants Joe Leone and Alex Karenchak of Local 1229; Frank Arnoldi and his assistants Mike Young and John Maise of the Lions; Bill Yohe and his assistants Carl Laszewski and Vernon Smith of the Eagles.

U. S. farmers operate from 60 to 65 per cent of all farm tractors in the world.

Little League Draft Tonight

The Little League will hold its annual draft meeting tonight in Memorial Civic Center beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Player Agent John Barton said that all boys who took part in two of the three recent tryout sessions will be eligible for the draft.

Undefeated Valley League Teams Will Clash at Ninth St.

The only two undefeated teams in the Mon Valley League will meet tonight when the Monessen Ozarks play host to defending champion Perryopolis at Ninth Street Park.

So far this season, the Ozarks have proved pleasant surprises, winning three games in a row.

Meanwhile, the Perry boys have lived up to their billing as the team to beat by scoring two successive victories.

Thus tonight's encounter figures to lure a big turnout to Ninth Street.

Monessen's ace hurler, Bill Mitnick, is ready to go against the Perry bombers Bill has appeared in all three of the Monessen successes to date and seems none the worse for wear.

Other Games

Other MVL games this evening will send Charleroi to Fayette City and West Newton to Donora.

At this early date, it's still difficult to determine how close the 1957 chase will be. However the only team which appears weak at the moment is West Newton

And the word is out that the WN boys plan to strengthen their roster in a hurry.

Four valley league games are also scheduled Wednesday when Monessen goes to New Eagle, Van Voorhis to Charleroi, Fayette City to West Newton and Donora to Perryopolis.

Standings follow.

City Softball Season to Open At City Park

Two newcomers — Italian Hall and the Myfords — will open the 1957 City Softball League this evening at 6 p. m. in City Park.

Although the teams are new to league play, there's nothing "fresh" about their rosters. Both clubs are loaded with veteran talent.

Tomorrow, the Cro-Ams will meet ULBA while on Friday the Ravens will clash with PNA.

That will get all of the league entries into the current fun.

Emil Crisi, league secretary, said that final details have been completed for the upcoming campaign. He predicted a close race.

All softball tussles this season will be staged at City Park beginning at 6 p. m.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Erratic Swing

Let your golf swing be your own. It's all right to pick up ideas from other and better players. But don't imitate another player's swing.

Once the game is underway, you have only yourself to depend on. You can, of course, get advice from your partner or your caddy, but essentially it's your problem alone. Hence the reason for needing a sound swing.

Take a good, free cut at the ball. Do not try to swing harder than you are capable of swinging because that will throw you off balance and make it impossible for you to contact the ball. But don't "baby" the shot, either. Swing hard enough so that, if you catch the ball solidly, you will get your full distance. Swing easy enough to give you your best chance of catching the ball solidly.

Pirates Finally End Their Slump

Defeat Phils, 6-1, in Nightcap After Losing Opener of Twin Bill

PITTSBURGH (UP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates adapted the showman's adage "Always leave them laughing" as they embarked on a western swing today.

A Sunday crowd of 10,467 chuckled with the Pirates who ended a seven-game losing streak with a 6-1 nightcap victory over the Philadelphia Phils. The visitors slugged 17 hits to take the opener, 6-2, but had to put down a Pirate rally in the ninth.

Righthander Vernon Law scattered 10 hits to give the Pirates their first victory since May 4 when he blanked the Milwaukee Braves, 1-0, on two hits. Chico Fernandez thwarted Law's shutout bid when he singled home Bob Bowman in the second inning. Philadelphia's defeat came after five straight victories.

Misses Shutout

Southpaw Curt Simmons had a 6-0 shutout the Pirates with two away in the ninth in the first game Bill Virdon walked, pinch-hitter Buddy Pritchard struck out and Roberto Clemente grounded out to advance the runner. Then Jim Pendleton singled home Virdon and scored after singles by Dick Groat and Frank Thomas. Bob Miller relieved Simmons and allowed a walk to pinchhitter Bob Sinner to fill the bases. But Miller struck out Dee Fondy to save the victory for Simmons.

Willie Jones, who got four for five, had a bases-empty homer in the fourth inning of the first game. Granny Hamner and Stan Lopata each accounted for a pair of runs to send Luis Arroyo down to his fourth defeat.

Fondy Homers

Fondy drove in two runs in the Pirate victory, one of them a solo homer in the third inning. Law helped his cause by driving in a run with one of his two singles.

Robin Roberts was charged with his fourth defeat against two victories and was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fourth inning after he yielded five runs and seven hits.

The Pirates open their western tour Tuesday with a two-game stand in Chicago, move to Milwaukee for three games and play a pair of contests with St. Louis. They return east for four games at Philadelphia and will open a long home stand May 28 with the Brooklyn Dodgers, the first of six visiting teams furnishing the opposition.

Miami Marlins Slowed Down

By UNITED PRESS

The law of averages and a pair of veteran hurlers caught up with the Miami Marlins today and transformed their International League "runaway" into a four-team scramble for first place.

Fred Hahn and Ray Herbert pitched the Buffalo Bisons to a 5-4, 2-0 Sunday doubleheader sweep over Miami, smashing the Marlins' six-game win skein, while the Richmond Virginians and Toronto Maple Leafs also swept twin bills. Richmond downed Columbus, 3-2, 3-2, and Toronto beat Montreal, 10-3, 2-0.

The Vees now trail Miami by only 12 percentage points. Buffalo is 1½ games behind and the Leafs trail by two. The Rochester Red Wings also gained a double-header sweep, 3-1, 9-1, over the Havana Sugar Kings. The Wings are now in fifth place, four games off the pace.

Demaret First In Golf Tourney

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UP) — Jimmy Demaret earned a premature but healthy birthday prize Sunday as he budied his way to a 5-under-par 67 and the $20,000 Arlington Open golf championship.

Demaret, from Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., picked up $2,800 for his 276, only a stroke better than five other pros, who finished with 277 and took home $1,320 each.

Demaret, who turns 45 next week, breezed through the final day with six birdies and one bogey, whistling and joking with the gallery all the way.

Bunched behind Demaret with 277s were Johnny Palmer of Tulsa, Okla.; Jack Burke, also of Kiamesha Lake; Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.; Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N.Y., and Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif.

AAU Ponders Russia Bid for Track Team

By UNITED PRESS

The National AAU hasn't announced whether it will accept Russia's bid to send a 70 - man team to Moscow in July for a dual track meet, but some of the crack Yank runners proved during the week end they are in fine form.

Here's what happened Saturday night at Fresno, Calif., in the Fresno Relays:

—Abilene Christian, with Bobby Morrow running the anchor leg, equalled the world record of 39.9 seconds for the 440-yard relay.

—Max Truex of the University of Southern California won the 5,000-meter run in 14 minutes, 14.5 seconds, fastest time ever posted for that distance by an American.

In the Southwest Conference meet at Austin, Tex.:

—The Texas foursome which set a world mark of 39.9 seconds in the 440-yard relay around one turn in the recent Kansas Relays, set a world mark of 40 seconds for the event around two turns.

The fast times were recorded on a track dampened by morning and afternoon rain, indicating the Americans could be counted on for some sizzling efforts if turned loose in Moscow's New Lenin Stadium July 12-14.

The AAU has a formal invitation to send a team to Moscow for a three - day meet with the Russians picking up the tab for the stay and the return trip.

Di Biase Favored In Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Young Tony DiBiase, unbeaten in his last 19 bouts, is favored at 3-1 to defeat welterweight Jimmy Archer tonight in their 10 - rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

It will be televised by DuMont at 10:30 p.m. e.d.t.

At 21, DiBiase of Astoria, N.Y., is only a year younger than Archer of New York; but he has had seven more fights and he has beaten sturdier opponents than those who faced Archer.

Fish License Increase Goes To State House

HARRISBURG (UP)—Legislation to increase state fishing licenses from $2.50 to $4 was in position for House action this week, with bitter debate and a raft of proposed amendments expected on the floor.

The House Fisheries Committee released the bill Thursday with a minor amendment to enlarge state Fish Commission powers to lease waters and carry out reclamation projects.

House Majority Whip Allen M. Gibson (R-Warren) said the Republican majority decided to bring the measure out of committee to sound out chamber sentiment on the $1.50 license increase. Both parties appeared split on whether to grant an increase of that size. The Fish Committee also has legislation to issue a $3 general fishing license and a special $1 trout stamp, although there were reports the GOP plans a 50 cent trout stamp.

'Dog Fight'

Gibson predicted a "dog fight" when the license increase came up for a vote. But he added placing the bill on the floor would give the GOP caucus an idea of just what kind of an increase the membership would pass.

Rep. Robert H. Bruce Jr. (R-Centre), cosponsor of the bipartisan legislation, said he expected several amendments would be offered to cut the increase to $1 and perhaps levy a trout stamp.

The Fish Commission has warned a reduction of services was in store unless it received "substantial new funds" to meet rising costs.

Cincy Going Great on Road Trip; Milwaukee Sweeps over Cards

By FRED DOWN

The Cincinnati Redlegs, who lost the pennant on the road last year, wound up the most successful trip by a National League team in 33 years today with a conviction that home is where you make it.

In a whirlwind tour of five cities the Redlegs accomplished the following:

—Scored 12 straight victories to equal their modern club record and achieve the longest winning streak in the majors in four years.

—Ran to 14 a string of road games without a defeat — three short of the major league mark set by the 1916 New York Giants.

—Made up the 5½ - game gap which existed between them and the Milwaukee Braves on April 28 to return home tied for first place.

The Redlegs "made it an even dozen" Sunday when they whipped the Chicago Cubs, 7-5 and 7-1, with Raul Sanchez and Don Gross each picking up his second victory and Frank Robinson driving in four runs with six hits during the course of the doubleheader. The Braves, meanwhile, kept even by sweeping the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2 and 10-4.

Bucs, Phils Split

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-1, after losing their seventh straight decision, 6-2, in the opener and the Brooklyn Dodgers downed the New York Giants, 5-0, in other National League games.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox held first place by a half-game with a 5-4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers while the second-place New York Yankees beat the Baltimore Orioles, 4-3. The Cleveland Indians scored a 7-4 victory after the Kansas City A's won their opener, 9-2, and the Washington Senators rebounded from a 10-0 defeat to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 6-2, in other A.L. games.

Hank Aaron had two hits in each game and drove in five runs as the Braves worked over eight St. Louis pitchers. Lew Burdette spun a six-hitter for his fourth victory and Taylor Phillips won the nightcap in relief of Red Murff.

Vern Law scattered 10 hits as the Pirates snapped a seven-game losing streak after 17 Philadelphia hits paved the way for a 6-2 win in the opener.

Shutout For Podres

Johnny Podres turned in his second shutout of the season and Duke Snider homered to help the Dodgers snap a four-game losing streak.

Larry Doby hit two homers and a double to drive in four runs as Bill Fischer scored his first victory for the White Sox. Walt Dropo also homered and Nelson Fox had three singles.

Andy Carey slammed two home runs and Mickey Mantle blasted No. 5 for the Yankees, who rallied with single runs in the seventh and eighth innings to beat the Orioles. Bob Grim got his fourth victory.

Ray Narleski threw one pitch and got two men out on a double play to preserve the Indians' victory after 38-year-old Virgil Trucks gained credit for his fifth straight win with a 3 2-3-inning scoreless relief job. Rocky Colavito knocked in four runs with a homer and two singles for Cleveland in the nightcap. Hal Smith's grand slam homer was the big blow for the Athletics in the opener.

Tom Brewer pitched a two-hitter and Jackie Jensen drove in four runs for Boston in its opener but Pedro Ramos tossed a seven-hitter for Washington in the nightcap.

Plan Further Tests on Score's Injured Eye

CLEVELAND (UP)—Cleveland Indians pitcher Herb Score, guaranteed "at least peripheral vision," probably will learn today whether the important center part of his right eye was damaged by a line drive last Tuesday.

"I hope to look into the area macula (center eye) today," Dr. Charles I. Thomas, Cleveland eye specialist, said.

"I saw the inner part of the eye (next to the nose) yesterday and it is uninjured," he said. "We are sure of peripheral vision, but there is still some doubt until we see the center."

The physician said there had been rapid absorption of the hemorrhage residue since Saturday. He was cautious in his comments even with part of the eye known to be healthy.

The eye specialist said even if the entire retina appeared, or in fact was undamaged, there remained the test of how well Score would see.

"We won't know the full story until we are able to test the quality of vision," he said.

Bucknell Keeps College Tee Title

MOUNT UNION, Pa. (UP)—Bucknell University has retained the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference golf championship.

The Bisons captured the title for the second consecutive year Saturday with a score of 626. Lehigh was second with 631, followed by Hofstra with 645, Lafayette with 651 and Scranton with 666.

A record field of 78 golfers from 17 colleges participated in the one-day event at the American Legion Country Club.

Bucknell's John Dunn won an extra-hole playoff with Leslie Norbury of Lehigh to take medalist honors. Both finished the regular 36 holes with 149s, one over par. Richard Burgoon of Franklin & Marshall had a 151 and was followed by Pete Foley of Scranton with 154 and Bill Huldin of Lafayette with 155.

Other team scores: Moravian 669, F&M 670, St. Joseph's 672, Albright 685, Muhlenberg 686.

Nobleman, Eleven Others Die in Dangerous Italian Road Race

BRESCIA, Italy (UP) — Italian road racing appeared doomed today in the wake of the deadly finish of the Mille Miglia 1,000-mile race, which claimed 12 lives, including Spanish nobleman Alfonso de Portago and his American co-pilot, Eddie (Gunner) Nelson of Beloit, Wis.

The Spanish marquis' Ferrari suffered a blowout near the finish of the classic road race Sunday, struck a milestone and a telegraph pole, and then catapulted into a group of the three million spectators who formed a "human corridor" along the dangerous course.

In addition to De Portago and Nelson, who was a member of the United States' four-man bobsled team in this year's world championships at St. Moritz, Switzerland, five children and four men also were killed in the accident.

It was the worst automobile racing catastrophe since 1955, when 82 persons died in the flaming crash of a Mercedes car during a race at Le Mans, France.

Called "Death Race"

In the 24 runnings of the Mille Miglia, 30 persons have been killed and more than 100 injured. Because of its bloody history, the road rally became known as "the race of death" in recent years.

And all over Italy today newspapers joined in an editorial chorus calling for its end.

Even the race's staunchest supporter, Brescia Mayor Bruno Boni, said it looked like the end. "The race," he said, "will now probably be called off for good."

Death came to the 27-year-old Marquis de Portago, who raced cars "for the fun of it," on a strip of straightaway one mile the tiny village of Guidizzolo.

It was his first Mille Miglia. He told a United Press reporter before starting Sunday that all he wanted to do was "finish the race."

He was 25 miles away from doing it when his left front tire burst as he hit an estimated 125 miles per hour on the straightaway.

In the crash, De Portago's body was cut in half by the cars hood, the official Italian police report said, and Nelson's head was crushed.

Another driver, Dutchman Josef H. Goettgens, died in a Florence hospital of injuries received when his Triumph skidded off a wet road in a second, unrelated accident.

Piero Taruffi of Italy, driving a red Ferrari similar to De Portago's death car, won the race with a winning time of 10 hours, 27 minutes and 47 seconds. Germany's Wolfgang von Trips was second.

Akton Miller of Whittier, Calif., and his co-driver, Doug Harrison, dropped out of the race only 190 miles from the start. Their entry was a Chrysler and was the only American-owned car in the race.

De Portago and Nelson were in third place and battling for the lead when the crack-up occurred. Only a few hours earlier, the dashing Spaniard screeched to a stop and stood up in his cockpit to embrace movie actress Linda Christian, who ran down the road to his car.

After this brief stop, De Portago gunned his Ferrari onward — to death.

Billy Graham to Open Crusade in New York City Thursday Evening

(The first of two dispatches previewing Billy Graham's New York crusade.)

By ROBERT E. JACKSON

NEW YORK (UP) — In the spring of 1917, with the world at war, a former major league baseball player stood in a New York tabernacle and "converted" 98,264 persons to Christ.

The late Billy Sunday breathed hellfire-and-brimstone to more than a million listeners in 10 weeks, and before leaving the stage he announced, "we piled up so many home runs to heaven that the devil was out of the game."

Now Billy Graham has come to town, his job cut out for him. The devil is still here.

Not for 40 years has the big town, with its full quota of cynics and sinners, paid such heed to a man of religion.

The 38-year-old North Carolina evangelist has waited and prepared for seven years for the moment which arrives at 7:30 p.m. e.d.t. Wednesday.

In an arena recently reserved for the circus and tag wrestling, on an avenue lined with bars, in a city where only seven people in a hundred share his Protestant faith — and about three out of five profess no faith at all — Graham will launch the biggest battle of his meteoric career.

It is not merely a fight to "win New York for Christ."

When the spotlight falls on Graham, Bible in hand, in Madison Square Garden, thousands will be praying with him that the long-awaited "New York crusade" can kindle the spark of a genuine religious revival across America.

Graham expects to pack the Garden to its 20,000 capacity seven nights a week for the next 6½ weeks, and probably longer. By June 30 he expects more than 800,000 persons to have heard him in person.

But his crusade promises to top Sunday's phenomenal success, and local church leaders believe it will have more lasting effects.

Millions will see Graham on a national network (ABC-TV) which will televise his Garden appearances for one hour from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. e.d.t. for four Saturday's, starting June 1.

Like Billy Sunday, Billy Graham preaches the "old-time religion." But while Sunday roused his listeners with fiery threats of damnation, delivered in shouting metaphor, Graham accentuates the positive.

Sunday excoriated his listeners: "Come on, you forces of iniquity that have made the church a cuspidor and a doormat to wipe your dirty feet on! Come on, you assassins of character; come on, you sponsors harlotry."

Graham also preaches against sin, against alcohol, against the devil. But with never-questioned sincerity, he preaches FOR Christ. He emphasizes the need for a "decision for Christ" which will open to men this kind of heaven:

"What a glorious place it will be — with streets of gold, the gates of pearl...and the trees bearing a different kind of fruit every month. Think of that—twelve crops a year!"

Of hell, he warns, "what ever it is going to be is so horrible that it cannot be expressed in the language of man."

Graham will preach against the 13 bars which he can see from the Eighth Ave. entrance to the Garden. But his listed goals are to: Reach people with the gospel message, strengthen the local churches, make a "conscienceless city aware of God," and make it conscious of its moral, spiritual and social responsibilities."

The show business trade newspaper Variety advised Graham: "What the majority of New York citizens would like to be saved from is Big Boredom rather than Big Sin."

Benson Begins Political Gamble To Lower Farm Price Supports

WASHINGTON (UP) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson has begun a politically perilous battel to convince American farmers they can make more money with lower government price supports.

Benson's campaign also is aimed at taxpayers who have been fretting at heavy federal spending.

Benson, a center of controversy since he took office in 1953, is proposing a reduction of the 75 per cent of "fair price" parity floor maintained by law under such major crops as cotton, corn and wheat.

In addition.—and perhaps this is more important — Benson wants Congress to eliminate the "flexible" price support formula which forces prices of major crops up toward a 90 per cent of parity ceiling when supplies are reduced. Repeal of the formula would allow Benson to set farm props at any point—within a range fixed by Congress — he considered practical.

Political reaction to Benson's new move has been cool.

"I do not know what course we will follow," Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said, "but I feel sure it will not involve vesting any individual with dictatorial powers over agricultural prices. We do not need nor can our farmers afford a program which would put our farmers' income at the mercy of an agricultural czar."

From a Republican farm expert close to the GOP National Committee, which views the farm belt as the major battleground in the 1958 congressional elections, came the comment:

"We'll be all right if nothing comes of it, and I don't think anything will."

Benson is fully aware of the political barriers in his path, but he has told newsmen he has the "wholehearted support" of President Eisenhower who stood with him in his earlier—and successful—farm policy battles.

The agriculture secretary opened his campaign with a 2,000-word letter and a 3,000-word explanatory statement to Ellender on May 2. In these documents, Benson made his proposals for farm law changes indirectly and by implication.

Benson deliberately avoided spelling out a detailed new farm program. Instead, he pointed the course he favors by detailing the failings of current programs.

Long Range Plan

Essentially, the May 2 statements and Benson's later speeches maintain that farmers can sell more if prices are reduced in some cases and not pushed above current levels in others.

One of Benson's close advisers admitted today this policy is a calculated risk.

"The long run effect will be to boost farm income over what it would otherwise be. But in the short run, we just don't know whether it would send farm income up or down," he said.

The official was asked why the administration chooses to take the risk of sending farm income down in 1958, a congressional election year.

"At any given time it's easier to take another drink than to sober up," he replied. "But the time comes when you've got to choose between sobering up and becoming an alcoholic."

Under current farm law, supports on major crops range between 75 and 90 per cent of the "fair price" parity level. The exact price in any year is set by a formula based largely on the amount of supplies on hand.

Few things say "modern kitchen" the way a kitchen phone does!

What makes a kitchen modern? Stylish, functional cabinets, of course. A spacious refrigerator. A dishwasher. A disposal unit. An efficient range. Perhaps a wall oven. And — definitely a kitchen telephone!

The kitchen is headquarters for most housewives most of every day. That's why there are few conveniences so appreciated as an extension telephone just a reach away from any point in the room. It saves steps by the mile, helps prevent burnt meals, ends missed calls, makes food buying ever so much easier.

Add this vital touch to your kitchen. You won't think twice about the pennies-a-day cost. And you can have your kitchen phone in any one of eight rich decorator colors, if you wish. Call our Business Office about it soon. Your kitchen won't be completely modern until you do.

'PARENTE'S FOUNDRY BLUNDER'

WHO doesn't know what they are doing? Parente, himself, does not know what "HE" would like to use the Foundry site for! In the last 12 years he has CHANGED his mind several times. He changes like the weather for a POLITICAL OPPORTUNITY. Now, Parente wants TO USE the Foundry site for the new STATE ROAD. He no longer wants it for new industries. He changed his plans on the Sewage Disposal System. He got rid of ROCKWELL, and he was surprised to hear that the Shopping Center (which he backed) FAILED TO MAKE IT and are ABANDONING their plans. WHOSE "IDEA" to put the State Road through this VALUABLE LEVEL property? Yes, Parente's! THAT'S why I call it a "CITY BEHIND"!

WHO said MONESSEN could not have raised the money to purchase the FOUNDRY SITE? THEY RAISED $80,000.00 for JOBS, INC., and I know we could have raised "A GOOD DEAL" of the Foundry site (being local and benefitting us most) WAS PUSHED WHOLEHEARTEDLY ENOUGH by everyone including the "Mayor", the man who claims "HE'S" GOT INFLUENCE. WHERE? WHY didn't he USE IT HERE? WHY didn't Parente GET BEHIND the plan whereby the valuable $380,000.00 Foundry Buildings could have been bought for $80,000.00 or less (a real bargain) and rented out one section to a Machine Shop firm, another to a Toy firm, and to other industries. Everything had been planned after spending much time getting commitments, BUT "WHO" SAT there and did "NOTHING" to help? Mayor Parente! What selfish motive did the Mayor have to be against it? WAS it HIS trying to award a contract to a friend in building the Sewage Disposal System? When it's not WHAT Parente or his gang WANTS, or if it's not a GET "RICH" QUICK deal, his friends are out TO KILL such GOOD "IDEAS". Yes, Parente and his gang gives up too easily when the "PROFIT" motive is "SMALL". Parente and his associate advisors DO NOT have the "FORESIGHT" to see VALUE in "anything" that is GOOD for the CITY. His friends are out for personal gain! That's why they are fighting for him and preaching his paid propaganda.

DO you know that our City did not give Rockwell Mfg. Co., parking meters a "fair" trial? They should have bought a fair amout of meters for goodwill. Rockwell Mfg. Co. would have "NEVER" asked the City to vacate Monongahela street if it did not "HAVE A GOOD REASON TO". That's when the Mayor refused, because it was Sewage Disposal System or "NOTHING".

Yes, the Mayor backed a Shopping Center which FAILED to materialize, and another Shopping Center which FAILED because the Mayor's FRIENDS could't see any profit in it! BOTH "BIG FLOPS! I call "BIG" FLOPS the CITY BEHIND.

DON'T make it "SIXTEEN" (16) YEARS of Parente "BLUNDERS" ? ?

Mother's Day Is Observed Around Nation

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's mothers, feted at family gatherings and showered with treasured remembrance, basked in their one day of yearly glory Sunday.

A special ceremony was held in Philadelphia at the grave of Anna Jarvis, a spinster who founded Mother's Day in 1908. A wreath containing 49 carnations was placed on Miss Jarvis' grave.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower marked Mother's Day by attending services at Gettysburg Presbyterian Church, accompanied by British Field Marshal Montgomery, a week-end guest of the nation's first family.

The President will remain at his Pennsylvania farm for a birthday dinner tonight for his mother-in-law, Mrs. John Doud.

Among the happiest mothers was Mrs. Lindwood Findley, 32, an Arlington, Va., housewife, who was named "Mrs. America" Saturday night at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Like many other mothers, Mrs. Findley was served breakfast in bed by her husband, an Air Force officer.

League of Cities Mapping Campaign

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pennsylvania League of Cities will wage an all-out campaign to get state appropriations for urban redevelopment and renewal, according to President Walter Schweppe.

Schweppe, mayor of Butler, said the league would meet Wednesday in Harrisburg and try "impress upon legislative leaders of both parties" the needs of local municipalities.

He said applications for state redevelopment aid total 28 million dollars, whereas a state appropriation in the budget now under consideration amounts to only 5 million dollars.

Steel Production Is Declining

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Steel production continued its decline last week with the industry's mills turning out their lowest totals since August, 1955, Steel Magazine said today.

Net tonnage reached 2,226,000 for the week ending May 12, which represents 87 per cent of rated mill capacity and a decline of one and one-half points from the preceding week.

But steel production may be approaching a leveling out stage, the weekly publication said, because of an upward movement in scrap prices.

The magazine's scrap price composite, at $44.33 per gross ton, was reported up 66 cents from the preceding week. Scrap prices started to increase during the week ending May 1 and have continued to climb since that time.

Many of the industry's producers were reported expecting mill operations to pick up sometime in the third quarter, explaining that prices on the scrap market are considered a good barometer for production.

Current steel production rates were reported following irregular patterns in different areas across the country. They ranged from a low of 56 per cent in New England plants to 99 per cent in the Far West. Some of the producers on the western coast were reported running at 104 per cent of rated capacity, Steel said.

The publication predicted that an expected upturn in metalworking production will help steelmakers' sales, pointing out that inventory adjustments which began around the first of the current year are "about over."

Demand for steel is mixed, Steel said, with "some consuming industries, such as appliances and automobiles," stymied by apathetic buyers.

"But shipyards continue to expand their demand for heavy plates. . .because of the heavy and accumulating bookings for this product," the weekly explained. The demand for plates was reported helping continuous hot sheet mills, some sheet mills complementing schedules with production of rollings of strip plates. The construction industry demands for reinforcing bars are also aiding merchant bar mills, the magazine said.

Steel prices reportedly remained generally stable, with the publication's arithmetical base price composite on finished steel standing fixed at $140.24 per net ton.

Passenger Fare Increase Boost

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A 15 per cent increase in first class passenger fares, to go into effect May 15, was announced Friday by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The increase was approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission April 29. Tariffs covering the increases have been filed with the commission, a railroad spokesman said.

State GOP to Use Pruning Shears

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Republican - controlled joint Senate House Appropriations Committee will use its legislative pruning shears this week to complete drafting of a fiscal program for the state expected to be 100 million dollars under Gov. George M. Leader's budget requests.

The "hold-the-line" program calling for an outlay of $1,500,000,000 in the next two years will be unveiled after it is presented to Republican Senate and House caucuses, probably Tuesday.

The firm decision of the Republican majorities to hold spending to the bone, for only essential services, was emphasized over the weekend by Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom.

Bloom said in a statement that new programs proposed by the Leader administration would require 541 million dollars in new revenue over the next four years.

"In order to do this," he said, "the General Assembly would have to levy some of the highest state taxes the people have ever seen and then there would not be enough money. In order to raise state funds of such magnitude—the sales tax would have to be increased from 3 to 5 per cent or a flat wage tax, with no exemptions, of 1 per cent would have to be imposed."

Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said the GOP budget program would work only if it received the support of citizens.

"If the people really want to see their state government cut down spending, or to hold all increased spending to a minimum necessary for good government, the budget will be balanced without any new taxes or increases in the rates of present taxes," Wood said.

Wood disclosed that General Fund appropriations will total about $1,420,000,000, with 80 million dollars appropriated to pay off the estimated deficit incurred in the first two years of the Leader administration.

Meanwhile, the governor said he will appeal this week directly to the citizens for public support of his higher education program with the start of a series of television appearances.

Nine Die In State Accidents

By UNITED PRESS

Traffic accidents on Pennsylvania highways during the week end brought death to at least nine persons, a United Press survey showed today.

Three small children drowned near Lebanon when the brakes failed on a parked automobile in which they were sitting and the machine rolled down a slope into the six-foot deep waters of Stover Lake.

The fatalities:

Uniontown: Rosella Dunko, 27, Morgantown, W. Va., was killed Sunday when her car left a rural road near Fairchance, Fayette County, and overturned. The victim was pinned under the machine.

Chambersburg: Joseph Lee Swartz, 41, Newburg, died in Chambersburg Hospital Saturday night of injuries suffered when his car collided with a truck on Route 11, north of here, as he was enroute home from work.

Lebanon: Three children of a Jonestown family were drowned late Saturday when the parked car in which they were sitting drifted down a slope into six feet of water in Stovers Lake. The victims were Nicholas, 3, Paul, 2, and Sylvia Yandrich, 8 months. Stephen Yandrich, 9, a cousin of the victims, also was in the car, but he managed to jump free.

McKeesport: James Fione, 11, Green Valley, was injured fatally Saturday when he ran into the side of a moving truck.

Pittsburgh: Scott Redding, 17, Mt. Lebanon, was killed Saturday when his car collided with a truck at a suburban intersection on Route 148.

Drag-out Battle at Charleroi Primary

A drag-out battle for burgess and council nominations will be held at the Charleroi primary election next Tuesday.

Burgess James W. McGuire will be opposed in his bid for reelection by Democratic candidates Frank H. Cantoni and Theodore H. Breuer.

Fred Miller is the lone Republican seeking the office.

No less than 21 candidates are seeking the four nominations for council. Eighteen have filed on the Democratic ticket and three on the Republican.

Also at stake in the primary are the offices of school director (two), tax collector and assessor.

Following is the complete Democratic lineup:

Burgess: James W. McGuire, Frank H. Cantoni and Theodore H. Breuer.

Council: Pete Celaschi, Charles H. Myers, Patsy A. Caruso, Vito A. Balsano, Frank Stavinsky, Joseph Sitte, Earl R. Sheets, Raymond L. Sphar, Frank Livingston, Robert C. Richard, Pete Tihansky Jr., Robert Caruso, James Monack, Joseph Prisc, George C. Hadjantoni, Charles L. Wood, John F. Burvan and Harry Prentice.

School director: Arthur B. Cramer, William V. Byron, James E. Buchanan and Frank Pucci.

Tax collector: Julius G. Petrilak and Regis Carroll.

Assessor: Marie E. King, Patrick K. Dolan and Joseph Sitte.

The Republican slate shapes up like this:

Burgess: Fred Miller.

Council: Walter Behrendt, George Debolt and N. O. Hunter.

Tax collector: W. Ross Allen.

School director: Arman Balsano and George Humphries.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of my dear son, Jack John E. Von Bergen, who passed away five years ago today, May 13, 1952.

Midnight stars are gleaming
Upon a lonely grave,
Where sleeping but not dreaming,
Lies one I loved but could not save.
In my dreams I see his dear sweet face
And kiss his cold, cold brow
And whisper as I loved him then,
I love his memory now.
I think of him in silence
No one can see me weep,
But still within my aching heart,
His memory I shall always keep.
He bade no one a last farewell,
He said goodbye to none,
The heavenly gates had opened
And a Lovely Voice said, "Come".
And with farewell unspoken,
He gently entered home.
My son sleeps in silence,
I'll not disturb his rest,
Sad and lonely is my heart
Of the one who lived him best,
So sleep on son and take your rest.
Sadly missed by his mother,
Mrs Helen Shorter, his daughter, Elaine and son, Joey.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name *Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Air Force to Reopen Mitchell Court Martial

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Air Force has agreed to reopen this week the sensational 31-year-old court martial case of the late Gen. William L. (Billy) Mitchell, called by many of his admirers the "father of the U.S. Air Force."

A spokesman said the Air Force Corrections and Review Board will begin reviewing the case Tuesday.

Mitchell was court-martialled in 1926 by a board of nine Army generals following his vigorous fight in support of his view that air power should be the first line of America's defense.

He was charged with insubordination after he had accused the Army of incompetency and inefficiency and urged creation of a separate air arm. Mitchell, who at the time of the case held the permanent rank of colonel, was suspended from his rank, command and duty and deprived of pay and allowances. President Coolidge modified the sentence to allow Mitchell half-pay.

Many of Mitchell's views were regarded as visionary at the time but later turned out to be correct. He was one of the first to say battleships could be bombed and sunk by aircraft. He also believed future wars would be decided in the air.

Westinghouse to Offer Shares For Employes

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Westinghouse Electric corporation announced today it will offer 400,000 shares of common stock to employes through a payroll deduction plan, beginning June 1.

Stock will be issued at the end of each six-month period. In the first offering period of June 1 to Nov. 30, stock will be sold to employes at six dollars a share below the average market price for the first 20 days of November, 1957. In no event will the price to employes be more than $70 or less than $46 a share.

Stock will be paid for by regular deductions from wages.

Gwilym A. Price, chairman and president, said about 22,500 employes now own company stock.

The program will be similar to an employe stock purchase plan in effect from 1950 through early 1955. Under the earlier plan, 887,000 shares were sold to employes.

Women and Babies Protest H-tests

LONDON (UP) — Several hundred women, many of them pushing baby carriages, marched in a pouring rain Sunday to protest against nuclear tests.

Many of the women carried banners calling on the government to outlaw nuclear weapons.

Plays Piano for 133 Straight Hours

CREWE, England (UP)—Syncopating Sandy Strickland, a 40-year-old engineer, claimed a new piano-playing endurance record today.

He played the piano at the New theater here non-stop for 133 hours to beat the 132-hour record held by Robert Sergil of France.

It is estimated that about 25 per cent of the hats sold to men are size 6⅞.

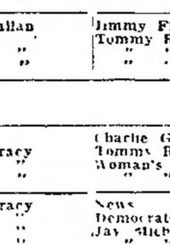
Walter O'Keefe Back In TV Harness Again

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — Walter O'Keefe, who was starting in radio when you and I were young, Maggie, likes to tell this story on himself.



William Ewald

"I was sending a night letter by phone about a year ago and after I'd finished, the operator asked for my telephone number and home address. Then she asked my name.

"'Walter O'Keefe,' I said. 'Walter O'Keefe', she said, my gosh whatever happened to him?'"

Well, Walter, for the benefit of those who haven't heard, is back in harness again. After a two-year vacation from broadcast gulch, he is herding a radio show called "Nightline," an effort uncorked by NBC two weeks ago. It drops in on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights for 85 minutes.

"It's a nice relaxing show," said Walter as he wrestled leisurely with a horse's neck, "no effort, no strain. It's just what I want at this point.

"There's a lot of music on the show, but we also pick up events around the nation—the lock-up at San Quentin, a raid on a Tennessee still, the talk among chorus girls backstage at a musical.

"Right now, we've got a man over in Europe cutting on-the-spot tapes for the show. Me, I'm just the link, the guy who kind of pastes it together."

Debuted In 1928

O'Keefe, still full of juice at 56, made his first network appearance in 1928 and later cavorted on such cro magnon art works as "Lucky Strike Magic Carpet," "The Rudy Vallee Show" and "Kraft Music Hall." He was quiz master on "Double or Nothing" for six years on radio, dropping the chore in 1953.

He had a brief fling on TV, emceeing "Two for the Money" during the summers of 1953 and 1954 and filling in briefly for Garry Moore in 1955.

Since his bow-out, O'Keefe has been living in Pasadena, Calif. "One thing I have decided," he said, "and that is that I'll never work hard again. I just don't ever want to sweat again, to take my problems to the pillow at night.

Fallowfield Twp. Road Improvement Survey Under Way

Engineers are engaged in making a survey of 4.03 miles of Rt. 481, extending near Moffit's Mill in West Pike Run Twp. to Lover in Fallowfield Twp., preparatory to improvement.

Rt 481 is a main road between Charleroi and Rt. 40 at Centerville.

Some relocation is planned for that portion which is to be improved and for which the present survey is being made.

The principal relocation is slated for the Maxwell Hill sector, which includes the steep, winding hill at the site of the West Pike Mine. This hill is considered to eb one of the most hazardous on the 11-mile stretch between Charleroi and Centerville.

Another point at which considerable relocation is planned in order to eliminate present curvature and steep grade is the hill that extends from the intersection of Rt. 481 and the Bentleyville-California road down to the northern terminus of the planned improvement at Lover.

Your Health—

Don't Treat Yourself For Stomach Trouble

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Smothering stomach disorders with unprescribed powders or pills could be a fatal mistake.

Cancer of the stomach, you must remember, is a silent saboteur. Even the slightest disorders should be thoroughly investigated by your pysician.

While palliatives may stop the signs of trouble, they do not halt the cancer itself. And without treatment cancer will spread.

Cancer of the stomach causes more deaths than cancer of any other organ, yet it can be cured—if it is treated early enough.

Causes of cancer of the stomach are still unknown. However, we do have some knowledge about this disease.

Some cases, we know, begin with polyposis, the formation of little grape-like tumors.

We also have evidence indicating that fat persons tend to develop stomach cancer more often than do thin persons. We know, too, that there is some relation between pernicious anemia and stomach cancer. Just how they are connected, we do not know.

If you've got pernicious anemia, though, you should be especially alert for any signals which might indicate cancer of the stomach.

Among these are a vague uneasiness after eating, slight indigestion, slight difficulty in swallowing, distaste for certain foods, especially meat, the sensation that something is sucking low down in the chest.

Another symptom might be the tasting of sour liquids or undigested food after eating.

For those of you past the age of 40 the onset of indigestion should be looked into quickly.

While pain usually is not a symptom of early cancer of the stomach it sometimes does occur after eating, either immediately or several hours later.

This pain might make you think you have ulcers since the symptoms are similar.

Ulcers of the stomach may be malignant, although ulcers in the duodenum or small intestine seldom are cancerous.

Observers to See Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States hopes to calm mounting world fears of U.S. nuclear tests by having observers from 47 free nations view this month's Nevada tests.

U.S. officials said today it is important to assure these nations that such tests can be safely controlled.

Actor Von Stroheim Dies

PARIS (UP)—Erich von Stroheim, 71-year-old actor - director who was Hollywood's "demon Prussian" of the 1920's, died of cancer at his country home near here Sunday night, it was reported today.

Von Stroheim, who had been bedridden for nine months, died at 9 p.m. in Maurepas. His artist-wife, Denise Vernac, was at his bedside when the end came

Von Stroheim made his name in Hollywood films about World War I, in which he customarily appeared as a stiff-backed Prussian officer.

Before World War II, he had left Hollywood for Europe, where he appeared in such films as "Grand Illusion." His most recent American appearance was in the movie "Sunset Boulevard," with William Holden and Gloria Swanson.

Jones on Strauss

HOLLYWOOD (UP)— Madcap musician Spike Jones has a theory about the inspiration for Johann Strauss' "Voices of Spring."

"It's obvious," Jones said. "He heard the birds and the bees telling their offspring about people."
